PAGE RESIGNS AS U. S. AMBASSADOR

New Man Will Be Sent to Hold Post at Rome

New York, July 15.—Thomas Nelson Page, the American Ambassador to Italy, who arrived here last night from Liverpool on the steamship Carmania, announced that he had returned for the purpose of resigning his post.

Mr. Page cleared up reports concerning his resignation by stating that he had not yet resigned, but had written to Washington several months ago asking permission to come home and tender his resignation in person.

Mr. Page expressed belief that the Italian affairs soon would be adjusted satisfactorily.

Pacific Fleet.

Washington, July 15.—The newly-organized United States Pacific fleet will sail from Hampton Roads July 19 instead of July 22, as previously arranged, it was decided late yesterday at a conference between Secretary Daniels and Admiral Hugh Rodman, commander of the fleet. The date of the fleet's arrival at San Diego, California, was fixed at August 7 or 8.

The passage of the fleet through the Panama Canal will furnish the first great test of that waterway as a strategic asset in connection with the operation of the nation's naval forces. It was announced that every effort would be made to put the fleet through the locks on exactly the same basis that would be used in time of war.

NITTI CABINET IS UPHELD IN ITALIAN CHAMBER OF DEPUTIES

Rome, July 15.—(Associated Press)—The Government of Premier Nitti, which took office several weeks ago, received a vote of confidence in the Chamber of Deputies last night. The vote was 257 to 111.

Seven U.S. Sailors Killed When Mine Sent Sweeper Down

Washington, July 15.—One officer and six enlisted men of the American navy were killed in the destruction of the United States minesweeper Richard H. Buckley by the explosion of a mine in the North Sea on July 12. Two officers were injured.

MORE NOTES FROM GERMAN DELEGATES

France Is Asked to Name Commission to Deal With Saar Basin

Versailles, July 15.—Two notes concerning the appointment of certain commissioners were handed to Col. Henry, the French liaison officer here, by Baron Kurt von Lersner, the head of the German peace delegation. One asks the French Government to appoint a commission on the question of exploitation of the Saar basin. The other requests the French and Belgian Governments to appoint a commission to deal with questions concerning the districts of Malmedy and Morisnet.

Dr. Lewald, head of a special German commission, has forwarded to the Peace Conference a note making suggestions regarding the food supply on the left bank of the Rhine.

American Troops.

Coblenz, July 14.—Via London, July 15.—The American First Division yesterday completed the taking over of the outlying posts of the bridgehead from the Second Division, which is preparing to start entraining next Wednesday for home. Six days will be required to transport this division.

According to the present understanding, neither the First nor the Third Division the last remaining divisions in the occupied area, are scheduled to start for home before August 15. In the meantime the Eighth Infantry, made up of volunteers recently sent to Europe from the United States, is expected to arrive and take up the watch which may keep the unit on the Rhine for months after the First and Third Divisions have gone.

RAILWAY SHOPMEN CONTINUE AT WORK

Period of Postponement Expired To-day; Word Awaited From States

Montreal, July 15.—Although the three weeks' stay of negotiations arranged between the Canadian Railway War Board and the Railway shopmen of Canada expired to-day, in all probability the arrangement will continue by common consent for some days to come.

The whole matter hinges on the decision of the United States Railway Administration.

Recent advices from Washington are to the effect that within the next two or three days the decision of the United States authorities in this matter will be announced. When this is received, it will form a basis for the settlement of the Canadian dispute, which three weeks ago threatened to tie up every railway system in Canada when it was decided to call a strike.

This decision later was abandoned by an arrangement to withhold action for three weeks.

Moncton, N.B., July 15.—It is persistently rumored here that Canadian National Railway system is to be

American Commander in London to Share in Victory Celebration

GENERAL JOHN J. PERSHING

London, July 15.—General Pershing, commander of the American forces in France, arrived here with his staff this forenoon to take part in the peace celebration. He was met at Dover by General Sir Henry S. Horne and a guard of honor.

Arriving at Victoria Station, General Pershing was welcomed by Colonel the Rt. Hon. Winston Spencer Churchill, Secretary of State for War, and officers representing Field-Marshal Haig and General Sir Henry Wilson, Chief of the Imperial Staff. After an inspection of the guard of honor, the party drove to the Carlton Hotel, being warmly cheered by the crowds along the route, which is already gay with decorations for the celebration of Peace Day.

BRAWL AND MURDER AT VERNON'S CAMP

Alien Prisoners Fight; Commandant Refuses Ordinary Civil Procedure

Telegraphic advices have reached the Deputy Attorney-General this morning that as the outcome of a brawl among the prisoners at the alien internment camp at Vernon recently one man is dead and another prisoner stands charged with murder.

From the wired intimation of the city prosecutor at Vernon it is learned that some days elapsed between the brawl and the death, and the local police authorities received no notification of the incident until after the death had occurred. As soon as the Vernon police officials took the matter in hand with a view to prompt inquiry and inquest, the Camp Commandant flatly refused to permit witnesses to be questioned unless in his presence. Objection was taken to this course of procedure, and the Attorney-General's Department appealed to for instructions, the suggestion being made at Ottawa in order that the internment authorities at Vernon might be instructed to remove any semblance of an obstacle to the most thorough investigation of the case.

Deputy Attorney-General Johnson took up the matter with the officer in charge of internment operations in British Columbia this morning, and it is possible that it is within that official's power to act in concert with civil procedure and avoid the necessity of raising the issue with Ottawa.

FLOODS CAUSE BIG LOSS IN ARGENTINA

1,000,000 Sheep and 100,000 Cattle Drowned in Buenos Ayres Province

Buenos Ayres, July 15. — Government reports show that 1,000,000 sheep and 100,000 cattle have been drowned in floods in the southern part of Buenos Ayres Province. The railways and telegraph communication have been interrupted and several sections in that region have been completely cut off for more than a week from this city.

The floods were due to a month of the heaviest rainfall ever recorded here.

Over on the Chilean side of Argentina there have been further heavy snowfalls along the Trans-Andes Railway, causing new damage to the line. At one point the debris on the tracks has accumulated to a depth of fifty yards.

The snow in this region has been more or less continuous for a month and in some places is more than twenty-six feet deep.

TRAMWAY STRIKE VOTE IN BERLIN

Berlin, July 15.—The employees of the tramways here have voted 10,643 to 6,545 for a continuation of the strike. As this is not a two-thirds majority, would should be resumed, but a large number of the men say they will persist in the movement. The management of the tramways has announced that all who do not return to work by Thursday will be considered discharged.

PRINCE OF WALES TO LAND AT ST. JOHN, N.B., AUGUST 15

St. John, N. B., July 15.—Plans for the welcome of the Prince of Wales to Canada were perfected yesterday afternoon at a meeting of officials with Sir Joseph Pope, Under-Secretary of State. The Prince and his party will arrive at Partridge Island about 10 o'clock on the morning of August 15. The battleship will anchor outside the harbor and the party will be brought up aboard the Government steamer Hochelaga, now being fitted out at Halifax.

The landing will be made at the Eastern Company's wharf, where the Prince will be received by the Governor-General, Sir Robert Borden, Lieutenant-Governor Pugsley, Premier Foster, Mayor Hayes and the City Commissioners

FURTHER STRIKE DISORDERS IN ITALY

Two Anarchists Killed by Soldiers in Fight Near Genoa

Rome, July 15.—(Associated Press)—Strike disorders occurred at various places in Italy yesterday.

At Lucera eight persons were killed and thirty wounded.

Near Genoa two anarchists were killed in a fight with carbinieri. The engagement, which occurred at Sestri Ponente, four miles west of Genoa, also resulted in the arrest of four anarchists.

A general strike began at Calta Nissetta, Sicily. The people there marched through the streets crying "Vive Soviet," and forced dealers in foodstuffs and other necessaries to reduce their prices fifty per cent.

Precautions.

Rome, July 15.—The Italian Government, Premier Nitti announced in the Chamber of Deputies to-day, has taken ample measures to preserve order in view of the threat of a general strike throughout the country. Troops have been distributed everywhere in cities and villages and in the country, provided with supplies for more than forty-eight hours in case they should be cut off from their bases.

There is no reason for a general strike in Italy, the Premier continued. The Government does not want bloodshed and will do its utmost to prevent it.

Telegraph and wireless communication with every part of the kingdom is assured, however, in case of trouble.

PARIS CELEBRATION CONTINUED AT NIGHT

Huge Girandole, Illuminated by 25,000 Lamps, Was Feature Last Night

Paris, July 15.—Weary, but still bent upon continuing its festivities until the last ounce of celebrative energy had been spent, Paris kept up its Victory Day celebration well into the small hours of this morning. Each of the traditional attractions of July 14 the illuminations, the fireworks, the free performances in the national theatres, the street dancing—found its particular crowd.

The climax of the night's proceedings, however, was the appearance of the Girandole, especially brought from Florence, where it had been made for the occasion. It consisted of a series of connected panels, brilliantly illuminated by 25,000 lamps and adorned with the portraits of the Allied rulers and celebrities, together with inscriptions recalling the principal events of the war. The whole contrivance was more than 3,000 feet long. Eight hundred solders dragged the immense machine through the principal streets on both sides of the Seine, its progress being accompanied by the strains of military bands, and its appearance everywhere being welcomed with huge delight by the people.

At Arc de Triomphe.

The largest crowds were in the Champs Elysee, where the illuminations were particularly beautiful in their effect, a notable feature of the lighting being the rays which lamps upon the Arc de Triomphe sent darting down the magnificent avenue. Thousands, too, gathered around and admired the cenotaph and the boulevards.

A real carnival spirit was in evidence among the people and confetti battles were numerous, notwithstanding the ban that had been put upon them by the Prefect.

As a sequel to the celebration, Presi-

SIR THOMAS WHITE GIVES ASSISTANCE

Continues as Finance Minister; New Minister Before End of July

Ottawa, July 15.—Sir Thomas White will continue to act as Minister of Finance until his successor is appointed, which probably will be before the end of the month. He will then remain here for a few days to assist the new Minister in taking up the duties of the office. Sir Thomas also is willing to aid in any way it may be thought advisable in the organization and flotation of the big Dominion loan next fall. Some preliminary work already has been done by him in this connection.

The retiring Minister has made no business plans and is not likely to do so for some months, during which he will be able to take a holiday at his home in Toronto.

AIRSHIP 1,100 FEET LONG IS BEING BUILT IN UNITED KINGDOM

Will Carry Six Aeroplanes of Its Own and Will Have Lifting Capacity of 100 Tons; Cruising Radius Will Be 16,000 Miles

Washington, July 15.—Word has reached the air experts of the United States Government that the British Government has begun the construction of the largest dirigible that yet has been undertaken in the world—one that will carry an equipment of six aeroplanes for its own protection against heavier-than-air craft.

The dirigible and the two hangars to be built for it will cost $9,000,000, according to the information reaching military men here. It will have a gas capacity of 10,000,000 cubic feet, will be 1,100 feet long, and 137 feet in diameter, and will be capable of lifting 100 tons, which will be more than double the lifting capacity of the R-34, which has just made a round-trip voyage across the Atlantic. The cruising radius of the new dirigible, which will be finished in from eighteen to twenty months, is given as 16,000 miles. The machine, it is claimed, will easily undertake the voyage from the United Kingdom to Australia.

Allied Commission Considers Fate of German ex-Kaiser

INDIAN OUTLAW IS SENT UP FOR TRIAL

Simon Gun-a-noot Will Be Imprisoned at Oakalla Until Fall Assize

Simon Gun-a-noot, the famous Indian outlaw, charged with the double murder of Alexander McIntosh and Max LeClair, was committed for trial at Hazelton on Monday, according to information received here to-day by Superintendent of Provincial Police William McMynn.

The prisoner is now on his way to Oakalla Prison Farm in charge of Provincial Police officers. At Oakalla he will await his trial at the Fall Assize. It is expected by the police authorities that the trial will take place at Vancouver.

At Hazelton Gun-a-noot was arraigned for his preliminary hearing before Magistrate S. Hoskins, and various witnesses gave evidence.

ROWELL DENOUNCED BY TORONTO GLOBE

Paper Says He Is Linked Up With High Protectionists

Toronto, July 15.—The leading article in The Toronto Globe to-day is headed, "Mr. Rowell Crosses the Floor," and says in part:

"The Liberals of Durham who voted for Mr. Rowell gave him no authority to destroy the historic Liberal Party of Canada by agreeing to a political merger with the Conservatives. If Mr. Rowell during the campaign of December, 1917, had told the electors of Durham that a vote for him meant a vote for the creation of a new party to take the place of the Liberal and Conservative Parties as formerly constituted, it is extremely doubtful whether he would have been elected.

"The policies of the new party to which Mr. Rowell and the majority of

FISHERMEN DESTROY NETS OF COMPANY

Destruction of Seine Nets Will Cost Wallace Fisheries About $3,000

Incensed at the use of seine nets by the Wallace Fisheries, a number of fishermen last Tuesday destroyed $3,000 worth of the nets in operation at Smith's Inlet on the coast of the mainland. This information was contained in a message received at Provincial Police headquarters here today.

Details of the act have not been learned yet, but Provincial Police officers are on their way to Smith's Inlet to conduct investigations. No arrests have been made.

It is stated at Provincial Police headquarters here that there has been considerable trouble at Smith's Inlet of late between the Wallace Fisheries, and the independent fishermen of the district. The Wallace Fisheries, it is understood, were granted a license by the Dominion Government to operate a seine net which is capable of catching very large quantities of fish. The use of these nets, it is said, was hotly resented by the independent fishermen, who operate smaller variety of net.

GERMANS TALKING ABOUT AN ATLANTIC ZEPPELIN SERVICE

New York, July 15.—A zeppelin freight and passenger trans-Atlantic service to start "about October 18" between New York and Hamburg with Boston, Chicago, Berlin and Drusseldorf as ports of call, is announced in advertisements in German language newspapers published here.

LESS PAID FOR CANADIAN CHEESE

Ottawa Tells Exporters They Are in Open World Market Now

Ottawa, July 15.—Inquiries are being received by the Government as to the drop in the price of export cheese.

During 1917 and 1918 the British Government purchased the exportable surplus of Canadian cheese, payment being provided from funds furnished by the Dominion Government for the purpose. This year the British Government decided not to purchase the cheese, but to allow it to be traded in by private dealers as before the war. The same course has been followed with bacon and many other foodstuffs which during the war were purchased by the British Government, and are now subject to trading in the open market under world competition conditions. Any fixing of prices in Great Britain will necessarily affect imported commodities whose prices are so fixed.

It is pointed out here that all the European countries, where the cost of living is so high, will naturally endeavor to purchase foodstuffs from abroad at as favorable prices as possible.

MRS. M'EWEN HAS GAINED 15 POUNDS IN SHORT TIME

Is So Happy Over Recovery She Wants Whole World to Know About Tanlac

"If you had known me before I took Tanlac and were to meet me now, you would hardly believe I was the same woman," said Mrs. H. McEwen, who lives at 372 28th Avenue East, Vancouver, and made the above statement while on a visit to her daughter who lives at 1139 Johnson Street, Victoria, the other day.

"I suffered with indigestion and stomach trouble for seventeen years," she continued, "and during that time I spent lots of money trying to find a medicine or treatment that would give me some relief, but all my efforts failed until I commenced taking Tanlac. I simply can't describe the awful suffering I underwent on account of my food souring, and my suffering from headaches was even worse than that. Why, I would actually be frantic from pain when those terrible spells of headache would come on me. I was so nervous that the ringing of the door bell or the telephone would upset me, and I just couldn't stand for the children to play around me. I didn't know what a good night's sleep was, and when morning came I felt worse exhausted than I did when I went to bed. This condition kept up until I was almost as helpless as a child and even when I went to dress myself I would have to have assistance.

"Then Tanlac came along, and I thought I would give it a trial, and I must say that it was the most fortunate decision I ever made in my life. I began to improve by the time I had finished my first bottle, and now I am as well and free from pain and suffering as I ever was. I have such a ravenous appetite that I actually can't get enough to eat. I have gained fifteen pounds in weight already. I never have indigestion or sour stomach now, and I eat just anything I want. All that nervousness has left me, and I sleep just like a child every night. And best of all, Tanlac has delivered me from those terrible headaches, and that alone is enough to make me sing its praises the longest day I live. In fact, my health has been completely restored in every particular, and I just feel fine all the time. Why, I am on my feet all day long, doing my housework and going from place to place, and it doesn't seem to tire me at all. My recovery seems so wonderful to me, and I am so happy over it all, that I just feel like I want the whole world to know about it, and I am glad to have the chance of letting others who suffer as I did, know about it, so they may take Tanlac and be relieved as I have been."

PRAIRIE MEMBERS ISSUE STATEMENT

M. P.'s Urge Farmers to Have Facts Ready For Tariff Inquiry

Ottawa, July 15.—Members of the House of Commons from the three prairie provinces who voted in support of the budget, thereby differing with their colleagues who voted against it, yesterday explained their position in a statement, which follows in part:

"While we do not take a second place to any citizen of the West in our desire and determination to exert every effort to free the West from all duties that have long borne heavily upon the prairie provinces, under the circumstances which prevailed when the budget was introduced we were unable to see that any advantage for our western country could be secured by voting at this juncture against the tariff proposals of the Government.

Some Relief.

"While these proposals fall short of meeting the needs and demands of the people of the prairie provinces, they still go a considerable distance in that direction, especially when it is remembered that the tariff on implements required by the farmers, being included in the war tax of seven and a half per cent., is reduced by an average amount of eleven or twelve per cent. Taking the estimate that has been made that the reductions in this year's budget will lift a burden of $15,000,000 from the shoulders of the western settlers, the very substantial nature of the revision will be realized, and will accentuate the wisdom and prudence of our action in declining to reject the half-loaf.

"We could not refuse the offer in view of the Government's declaration that a thorough inquiry would be conducted in a few months throughout the West and a complete revision made at the following session in conformity with the information secured during that inquiry.

Result of Efforts.

"When we reached the capital at the opening of the session we discovered that the Government, holding the view that the war and questions arising out of it were still paramount and absorbing, had no intention of changing the tariff this year. It was because of the persistent and strenuous representations of the western members, who organized a special caucus for the purpose that the tariff burdens carried by the settlers should be lightened at the earliest possible time, that the Government finally yielded and conceded to the reductions which appear in this year's budget.

"It is announced that the tariff inquiry will begin at an early date. All important points in the west will be visited and evidence taken. It is of the highest importance that all public bodies interested, and especially farmers' organizations, should begin with the least possible delay to prepare such a case in favor of tariff relief for the west as will be irresistible. We have reason to believe that the Government is anxious to make such a revision as will remove the unrest and the conviction that has long existed along the farmers that they never received fair fiscal treatment.

An Influence.

"The additional knowledge that the Government and the people of Eastern Canada possesses that unless a satisfactory understanding can be reached on tariff matters the strain which the Federal union has long experienced because of the fiscal estrangement might become so tense as to endanger the Federal pact, can not, we think, fail to exercise an important bearing on the decision of the Government when, after the inquiry is made, the tariff is finally adjusted.

"Under all the circumstances, we as representatives of Western constituencies, can not too strongly reiterate the advice that, when the inquiry is being held, no stone should be left unturned on the part of the western settlers to see that all information which would have a bearing to influence tariff justice should be urgently presented to the board of inquiry.

JOHN DUGGAN IS COMMITTED FOR TRIAL

To Stand Trial on Charge of Murdering J. Doherty at Qualicum

Nanaimo, July 15.—John Duggan was committed for trial by Magistrate Potts here yesterday afternoon, charged with the murder of John Doherty at the Qualicum Convalescent Hospital on Sunday morning.

Duggan will be taken to New Westminster to await trial at the assize court sitting in October.

Evidence was given at the inquest yesterday and at the preliminary hearing of the murder charge, to the effect that the shooting followed a quarrel between the two men, who were alleged to have been drinking. It was stated that Duggan accused Doherty of stealing money from him, and that following an argument a shot was fired which entered Doherty's head and killed him instantly. Both men were employed as orderlies at the hospital.

Duggan is an old-time resident of the district. He is a veteran of the great war, and also saw several years' service in India with the Imperial army. He went overseas four years ago, and returned wounded and shell-shocked.

Doherty went to Qualicum from Victoria several months ago and little is known of him.

PLATINUM REPORTED FOUND IN ALASKA

Valdez, Alaska, July 15.—Reported discovery of platinum deposits about eight miles from Valdez on the route of the Tanana railway has developed a small stampede. It is the only stampede on record in Alaska history where many of the stampeders have gone to the district of discovery in automobiles.

Zilberman, a trapper, is said to have made the discovery in May, and assays of ore found are said to show high values in platinum and gold. The ground may be easily worked by hydraulic methods. Nearly 100 persons have staked claims.

BIG FOREST FIRE IN CENTRAL IDAHO

Boise, Idaho, July 15. — The forest fire which has been raging for three weeks in the Yellow Pine district of the Thunder Mountain section in Central Idaho threatens to equal in destruction the great fires which swept Montana and Northern Idaho in 1910, when a great loss of life resulted, according to members of the local forestry service. The fire has wiped out six square miles of timber and has done serious damage over an equal area. Forestry officials to-day estimated the loss so far sustained at 125,000,000 feet of lumber.

GAS IN THE STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Recommends Daily Use of Magnesia to Overcome Trouble. Caused by Fermenting Food and Acid Indigestion.

Gas and wind in the stomach accompanied by that full, bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid indigestion."

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis accompanied by serious stomach ulcers. Food ferments and sours, creating the distressing gas which distends the stomach and hampers the normal functions of the vital internal organs, often affecting the heart.

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This will drive the gas, wind and bloat right out of the body, sweeten the stomach, neutralize the excess acid and prevent its formation and there is no sourness or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and the best form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

The Labor Sub-Committee is an off-shoot of the Cabinet Reconstruction Committee and has among its members representatives both of capital and labor. To-day it considered primarily:

(a) The date when the National Industrial Conference shall meet.

(b) How the various associations and unions of employers and employees will be represented.

(c) The method by which representatives will be chosen.

It is expected that the conference will be held in Ottawa. The date will be as early as possible, probably in August. The conference is the outcome of recommendations made both by the Labor Sub-Committee and by the majority of the Commissioners of the Industrial Relations Commission. It will be representative of all industrial interests, both of employers and employees. Associated with them will be representatives of the nine Provincial Governments, invited with a view to securing unity in industrial legislation throughout the various provinces and also with a view to considering the enactment of legislation along lines suggested by the report of the Industrial Relations Commission and on the principles laid down in the international labor charter as assented to by Canada in the treaty of peace. A number of the recommendations made by the Industrial Relations Commission, it has been held, are outside of the competence of the Dominion Parliament, such as legislation limiting hours of labor, and on these coordinate action by the provinces will be sought.

It is confidently expected that the conference will pave the way to greater unity of action on the part of the employers and employees. Based in the main on the industrial conference called by Mr. Lloyd George in the United Kingdom shortly after the signing of the armistice, the Canadian conference will in its deliberations range over the whole industrial situation. As the result of its labors, it is probable that there will be set up in Canada a permanent joint advisory council along the lines of the "Labor Parliament" of Great Britain.

G., of Toronto, a returned soldier, has been appointed Deputy Minister of the new Department of Health, the establishment of which was authorized in a bill passed by the House of Commons at the session just closed. Col. Amyot will commence his duties in Ottawa in about two weeks' time.

THE ONE BIG UNION CONTEST IN VANCOUVER

Vancouver, July 15.—Twelve unions here are now reported to have taken a definite stand against the One Big Union, and partial returns indicate that seven organizations have signed the petition circulated by the Vancouver Theatrical Federation asking the American Federation of Labor and the Dominion Trades Congress to cancel the charter of the Vancouver Trades and Labor Council.

In labor ranks it is generally accepted that the charter of the Council will be revoked, and that a new central body composed of unions adhering to the international form of crafts unionism will be authorized.

The Milk Drivers' Union is the latest one to take a stand against the One Big Union and vote in favor of the cancellation of the Trades and Labor Council charter.

Winnipeg, July 15.—The International Association of Machinists, Washington, D.C., has notified Fort Garry Lodge No. 1918, and Transcona Lodge, No. 184, that their charters have been suspended as a result of their endorsement of the One Big Union, which is described as a secessionist movement. The members of these organizations have been given one week to show why their charters should not be entirely revoked.

Regina, July 15.—Fifteen labor men representing five of six unions voted at a meeting at the Regina Trades and Labor Council here for adoption of the constitution of the One Big Union. In the absence of opposition the motion was declared carried.

It was decided to ask that the maximum award under the Workmen's Compensation Act be increased from $2,000 to $3,000.

CELEBRATION IN FRENCH CAPITAL

Wounded Veterans Had Place of Honor in Great Parade Yesterday

Paris, July 15.—The conquerors in the great war marched in a victory parade yesterday under the Arc de Triomphe, through which only victors may pass. Picked units, troops and individuals represented each of the Allied armies. Several million grateful persons, mostly French, but with many thousands of their Allies, struggled forward along the line of march for an opportunity to wave and shout their gratitude to the men who saved them from German imperialism.

The triumphal arch conceived by Napoleon to commemorate his victory at the battle of Austerlitz took on new history when the Allies marched through the massive pile of masonry which dominates all Paris and moved down the Champs Elysees toward the Place de la Concorde. The place of honor was not accorded to the generals and the smartly equipped troops. It was given to the thousands of mutilated soldiers who passed under the arch and in front of the review stands, where stood President Poincare, moving haltingly and out of step, as best they could.

All Walks of Life.

Many were injured, some were blind, some were in wheel chairs and others were on crutches or limped along with the aid of canes. Few of them were in uniform. They represented all the provinces of France, all branches of the military service and all walks of life, as was indicated by the variety of their conventional attire. They made no effort to maintain military formation; but marched as well as they could to the airs played by the band which led them.

Great crowds filled every inch of space in the many streets and boulevards that commanded a view of the line of march. Balconies were packed and roofs were black with people. Many hung in the trees which line the boulevards.

The wounded soldiers were a surprise to the crowds, which were slow to realize who the men were because of their disorganized and non-military appearance. But when the great throng grasped the situation cheers rose and were taken up by the crowds far from the line of march.

Marshals.

Marshals Joffre and Foch followed, Marshal Joffre riding slightly in advance of Marshal Foch. There had been so much speculation as to whether Joffre would be in the parade that his appearance with the Commander-in-Chief provoked wild enthusiasm.

The Belgians, British, Italians, Americans, Japanese, Portuguese, Serbians, Czechs, Roumanians and Poles were all greeted warmly.

A half million persons witnessed the victory parade from the Place de la Concorde, across which the enormous mass of humanity swept a minute after the armored cars and tanks had passed, marking the close of the spectacle.

COAL INQUIRY IN UNITED KINGDOM

Increase in Price Postponed; Effort to Increase the Output

London, July 15.—The coal debate in the House of Commons yesterday had the somewhat unexpected result of a partial yielding or the Government to the miners, and the postponement of the enforcement of the six-shilling increase in the price of coal while an attempt is made to seek an arrangement between the contending interests.

After an explanation by Sir Eric Geddes, Minister without portfolio, the most important contribution to the debate emanated from William Brace, member for the Abertillery division of Monmouthshire and president of the South Wales Miners' Federation, who, characterizing Sir Eric's speech as impressive, and itself the strongest condemnation of the Government's policy, reproached the Government for failure to repose confidence in the miners.

Two Proposals.

Declaring that the miners were prepared to give the Government every assistance, Mr. Brace made two propositions:

First, that the Government appoint a committee of inquiry, and thus give the miners an opportunity for consultation and co-operation on the problem of increasing the output, and.

Second, that the Government take steps to give executive effect to the Sankey recommendations and proceed to the nationalization of the mines.

He said that the miners would not welcome labor-saving machinery that produced profits for private individuals, but were ready to adopt all means to increase the output if the industry were nationalized.

Sir Evan Jones, Coal Controller, welcomed Mr. Brace's offer as one ray of hope in the clouded prospect.

Lord Robert Cecil also expressed obligation to Mr. Brace, but preferred a royal commission of experts. However, he was strongly opposed to nationalization.

Time is Allowed.

After further debate, Rt. Hon. Andrew Bonar Law announced that if the miners' leaders would give an undertaking that there should be no stoppages or strikes in the meantime, the Government would accept Mr. Brace's suggestion of a committee of inquiry and postpone the six-shilling increase for three months.

Mr. Brace replied that he was not in a position to give such an undertaking, but would submit the suggestion to the Miners' Conference on Thursday and recommend its acceptance.

Mr. Bonar Law thereupon agreed to defer enforcement of the increase from July 16 to July 21, in order to give time for consideration of the matter.

BENEFITS RETURNED PROFESSIONAL MEN

Branch of Re-Establishment Department to Place Professional Ex-Soldier

Winnipeg, July 15.—As far as can be ascertained, public attention has not been drawn, during the present unrest in labor circles, to the problems confronting the professional man. Yet his problems are just as vital to the community as those or ordinary and unskilled labor. Scores of articles and many volumes have been written in connection with the troubles of bricklayers, carpenters and workers of that type, but the professional worker has been shamefully neglected, and public sympathy on his behalf is seldom, if ever, enlisted.

This article and others which will follow will deal with the problems of the professional man, being presented with the object of bringing before the public the work of the Professional and Business Section of the Department of Soldiers' Re-Establishment. This section is a new idea in employment bureaus in that it handles a class of men who do not usually seek employment through the medium of an ordinary employment office. It has been organized with a view to assisting such returned soldiers as are professional men to re-establish themselves in civil life; but the idea has been taken up by the employment services of Canada, which also have formed a Professional and Business Section, which is co-operating closely with that of the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-Establishment. Local representatives from the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-Establishment. Local representatives from the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-Establishment and the employment services of Canada will conduct interviews of a strictly confidential nature with both employers and employees.

Brings Parties Together.

The Section does not guarantee to place a man in a position immediately, but will arrange interviews between professional men seeking positions and employers who are in need of such help. The results of the interviews depend solely on the applicants, for, as will be shown in a later article, the applicants' success in securing the position is largely due to their ability as a salesmen.

The popular conception of an employment bureau is that it is a place for hiring artisans and ordinary labor. Consequently the professional and business section needs a considerable amount of publicity before its services will be utilized by those who have been depending on advertisements in professional and technical journals. While acknowledging to the full the value of such advertising, it must be granted that it is an expensive and often tedious method of bringing employer and applicant together.

Assists Employers.

Employers who apply to the section for professional help will find themselves placed in touch with men of many years' experience in the business for which assistance is desired. It will, therefore, be readily seen that by this means the right man can be chosen from half a dozen selected for interview, instead of from the half a hundred with doubtful qualifications who beslege an office in answer to an advertisement.

If, as often happens, a highly trained technical man is required, and such a one cannot be found in the immediate locality, the section can usually procure a fully qualified man from elsewhere, as the supply and demand for specialists is recorded at all the offices of the section throughout the Dominion. In this way, men who may be tempted to take up some other branch of business owing to their inability to secure employment of the kind for which they are best fitted, can often be placed where their services will be of the most value to the country.

Confidential Interviews.

The men belonging to the class handled by the section are, generally speaking, possessed of finer sensibilities than the artizan or laboring class. The strictly confidential interviews that they are given in the office enable the representatives to obtain an excellent idea as to the applicant's ability and past experience, thereby reducing to a minimum the possibility of an employer engaging a man who is afterwards found to be unable to handle the position for which he has been engaged.

The professional and business section of the employment services of Canada will deal with civilian professional and business men and women. The men will be of the same class as the returned soldiers, while the female applicants will include first class stenographers and book-keepers. The methods employed by the two sections are identical, and returned soldiers are always given preference in any vacancies that are registered at the office.

Many Classes.

The men being handled at present include the following: Accountants, bookkeepers, architects, artists, engineers (civil, mechanical, construction and electrical), chemists, graduate druggists, dentists, doctors, lawyers, expert clerks, experienced commercial travelers, managers (office, commercial and industrial), draughtsmen, veterinary surgeons, students (undergraduates), journalists, school teachers and men seeking business openings.

In addition to assisting applicants to find employment, the representatives are always ready to give any information they may require, or to advise them where such information can be obtained. The Section is a public service organized by the Dominion Government, and neither employers nor employees who register at the office incur any financial obligation to either the state or the individual for any service rendered.

Certain business men's associations are co-operating in publicity work, but it is even more necessary to get the closer co-operation of individual firms and employers. The bureau is a new project, and for some time will suffer from the lack of confidence that falls to the lot of all new schemes, but it will at least bear investigation, and is confidently expected to prove itself a very valuable service to a hitherto much-neglected class of workers.

KOLCHAK WELCOMES DENIKINE'S SUPPORT

Omsk Government Upheld by Southern Anti-Bolshevik Leader

London, July 15. — A dispatch received here from Omsk, filed here on July 3, says that Admiral Kolchak, head of the All-Russian Government, replied to the message from General Denikine, anti-Bolshevik leader in Southern Russia, in which the southern leader pledged his support of the Omsk Government. In his telegram, Admiral Kolchak said: "I am deeply touched by the patriotic decision dictated by your high ideals of duty to the country.

"In the period of disintegration, general depression and pessimism you were one of the first to raise the standard of a united, resurrected Russia. By your decision at the present moment you give the country another example of a soldier and a citizen who considers above all the happiness of his country and her historical future. God help you in your service to Russia."

In Support of Army.

A congress of representatives of various organizations in Siberia to organize support for the Siberian army engaged against the Bolsheviki was held July 3 under the auspices of the State Economic Council.

Coal.

Production of coal in the Ural district is increasing steadily, according to a statement of the Minister of Trade and Industry at Omsk.

The Abamelek-Lazarex mines, which produced 7,233 tons of coal in January, raised their production to 18,389 tons in March. The total coal production in the Ural district for the first four months of 1919 was 348,136 tons.

One of the great needs of the All-Russian Government now is better transportation, according to Mr. Oustrugov, Minister of Communications. He said the destruction of railroads by the Bolsheviki has been on an enormous scale, but that railroad transportation was improving, although it still was far from normal.

A GERMAN REPORT

Berlin, July 14, via London, July 15.—Premier Venizelos of Greece has taken the initiative for the formation of a new Balkan League, according to a dispatch to The Tageblatt from Vienna. It does not seem likely, it added, that Roumania will join such a league at present.

FRENCH SOCIALISTS OPPOSE RATIFICATION OF PEACE TREATY

Paris, July 15.—The national council of the Socialist Party of France yesterday decided to oppose ratification of the peace treaty with Germany. The vote was 1,420 to 114, with 387 abstentions.

The moderate element, which formerly formed a majority led by Albert Thomas, ex-Minister of Munitions, and Paul Renaudel, once editor of L'Humanite, endeavored to secure a vote favorable to the treaty on account, as they said, of the results which might be obtained through the League of Nations and with the hope of securing revision of the treaty subsequently. They were overwhelmed by the extremists, however.

The action of the council binds the Socialist Deputies to vote against ratification of the peace treaty in the Chamber.

HANGINGS FOLLOW MURDER IN EGYPT

Cairo, Egypt, July 14.—Via London, July 15.—Three of the ringleaders in connection with the murder of the British railway official named Smith at Elwasta on March 15 have been hanged, and two others sentenced to penal servitude for life and ten years respectively.

Out of the fifty-one death sentences passed by military courts owing to recent disturbances, one man has been pardoned and ten other sentences commuted. On the intervention of the Premier, the Commander-in-Chief commuted six other sentences and promised that the military courts would cease to function on July 15, except in connection with attacks on members of His Majesty's forces, that those interned on political grounds would be liberated and the censorship on outward correspondence abolished.

GOLD IS DISCOVERED NORTH OF LE PAS

The Pas, Man., July 15.—Measuring twenty feet wide and 5,000 feet in length, a solid dyke of quartz containing gold has been found at Copper Lake, north of here, by J. F. Gordon, ex-chief engineer of the Hudson's Bay Railway.

Mr. Gordon states that the values are uniform throughout and average between $9 and $14 to the ton.

Incoming prospectors confirm the report of the discovery, and a mild rush has already begun to the scene of the strike. Copper Lake is east of the Flinflon copper mines.

NOT IDENTIFIED

Buffalo, N.Y., July 15. — John McSherry, of New York City, arraigned in the city court here yesterday on a charge of grand larceny in connection with the alleged wire-tapping swindle in which Michael J. Connolly, of Montreal, lost $125,000, was discharged when Connolly failed to identify him as a member of the wire-tapping gang. Connolly had identified a rogue's gallery picture of Frank Kirk, alias John McSherry, as one of the swindlers, but could not identify the man who was arraigned in court.

Some of the Swiss cantons, including Zurich and Thurgau, have forbidden automobiling on Sunday.

HARMONY NEEDED.

The Canadian Government is about to summon a representative conference to discuss relations between employers and employees and to consider the report of the Industrial Relations Commission. In announcing the Government's intention Sir Robert Borden makes an impressive appeal for industrial harmony, and emphasizes the necessity of the country profiting from its advantageous position by effecting an early recovery from the war.

Of all the countries involved in the recent conflict this Dominion should be among the first to regain its equilibrium. It possesses in incalculable measure the basic wealth needed by the world to repair its shattered fortunes. Only a fraction of its vast resources have been developed. But as long as it is torn with industrial warfare, and lockouts and strikes continue to be the order of the time, not only will the process of reconstruction lag but conditions will drift from bad to worse.

There must be conciliation and compromise between the two chief constituents of the economic fabric. Without these production will be restricted and the natural advantages of the country will be useless. Industrial harmony will not be possible on any other basis. Neither side is going to eliminate the other as an important element in the country's progress and development, and only fools, trifling with their own best interests, fancy that these elements can do without one another.

If Canada could have anything like industrial unity she would be the most prosperous state on earth within a very short time. She would develop as the United States developed after the war of 1861, and for the same reason.

THE WEEKLY DISCUSSION.

Considerably more than a month has elapsed since the Minister of Lands submitted the housing agreement to the City Council in its present form. An earlier draft failed to commend itself to the aldermen and only by a radical alteration to its provisions would a reconsideration of the subject be possible. In the meantime there have been a number of consultations between the Minister of Lands, the Superintendent of B. C. Soldier Settlement and representatives of the City Council, all of which appear to have given but little guidance to the Council in its discussion of the question week by week.

Judging from the comment at last night's proceedings the agreement into which the city must enter if it desires to take advantage of the scheme is still sufficiently obscure to the Council to prevent definite action. The City Solicitor reports that the responsibility involved in the agreement is primarily one for the city to accept. There actually never has been any obscurity on this score. The Minister of Lands made it quite clear weeks ago that participation in the national scheme would entail municipal enterprise with the Province merely playing the role of financial agent for the Dominion authorities.

At no stage of the negotiations has the Province wavered on this point. If other phases of the agreement are either obscure or distasteful on technical grounds, a couple of hours conference between the parties to the arrangement should be sufficient to clear them up once the main principle of municipal obligation has been accepted. If the Council refuses to take the responsibility it should say so at once, so that the four-score of bona-fide applicants under the scheme may know what to do. But why on earth the whole question should be treated as a weekly serial and discussed every Monday night is hard to understand.

BACK FROM OTTAWA.

Dr. Simon Tolmie's good work at Ottawa is heartily appreciated by his constituents. This is particularly true of his unwearying efforts on behalf of the drydock project at Esquimalt which were continued not only until a satisfactory assurance was obtained from the Minister of Public Works, but until that assurance was translated into a Parliamentary appropriation and arrangement for the dispatch of engineer of the Department to conduct preliminary operations on the site of the proposed work. Dr. Tolmie never has pretended to be a "practical politician," but he has been at Ottawa long enough to know that the old adage "there's many a slip 'twixt cup and the lip," receives frequent illustration there, so he remained on the scene until the guns at Nepean Point boomed the Parliamentary session into history. Apart from his fight for the drydock, however, Dr. Tolmie has been persistent in his advocacy of the best interests of this Island and has been prompt to take up every matter that has been referred to him. He has done excellent service for his constituency.

THE PEACE CELEBRATION.

Yesterday we pointed out that the celebration on Saturday will mark an occasion without parallel in the history of the Empire. It will be the official observance of the conclusion of peace after the most terrible conflict in the annals of the human race. In its significance it will dwarf every other demonstration that ever has been held into negligible proportions. It will signalize the end of the fearful pathway, saturated with the blood and tears of millions, which humanity has trod for the last five years. For its contribution to the observance of this unprecedented occasion the City Council has appropriated only $1,250. This to our mind betrays a surprisingly inadequate sense of proportion on the part of the Council, for never has there been an occasion which demanded so much in the way of support and active sympathy from our official representatives as the demonstration that will mark the end of Armageddon and the victory of civilization over Prussian militarism. An appropriation of $1,250 in such circumstances almost amounts to making the sublime into the ridiculous.

WHY THE SILENCE?

In the general outcry of the British press against the trial of former Kaiser Wilhelm in London there is a significant omission of any editorial declaration of opinion on the part of the Northcliffe section. So far the columns of that publisher's chain of newspapers have contained only letters from prominent persons opposing the trial. It is not often, however, that Lord Northcliffe allows a lead to come from other than his own journals unless there is some particularly good reason. We would not be surprised if Carmelite House and Printing House Square have been told to await the crystallization of public sentiment, which may very easily swing against the attitude of newspapers that already have pronounced views, and then let loose a demand for the fulfilment of Mr. Lloyd George's promise. The trial of the ex-Kaiser in London may yet be an issue between the Northcliffe papers and the rest of the British press.

THAT "FINAL DECISION."

The Vancouver World quotes Mr. Crowe, one of the members of the Terminal City in the House of Commons, as saying in connection with the drydock, "while there could be no denying that Esquimalt was favored at Ottawa for some reason or another, the hard work put in by the Vancouver members as well as the protests wired from Vancouver had resulted in the Government deciding to obtain expert advice on the matter before reaching a final decision."

We fear Mr. Crowe has not been following the drydock situation at Ottawa as closely as the representative of a city which has been so anxious to win the prize over Esquimalt should, or has not dipped very far into drydock history. Parliament, at the instance of the Government, has appropriated $500,000 for initial operations for a dock at Esquimalt and an engineer soon will be here to attend to the necessary preliminaries. Incidentally, Mr. Crowe might be interested to learn that a site was purchased, expert advice obtained and an appropriation was made for this work, seven years ago. The Dominion Government is completing the programme it laid down in 1912, as it was bound to do.

WHY WAS IT NOT READ?

Alderman Dinsdale presented a report in the City Council chamber last night dealing with housing accommodation in Victoria, but it was not read. We understand it discloses an urgent need for more houses, declares that all the apartment houses are full, that even the cottages on the beaches are virtually packed, and winds up with the frank admission that practically no accommodation can be got anywhere. This is good news, because it signifies that Victoria's population statistics are more than holding their own. It also will suggest to the average citizen that the last prop to the Council's objection to avail itself of the $180,000 housing grant falls to the ground.

QUEBEC'S EXAMPLE.

(London Advertiser.)

Ontario is loth to believe that it can learn anything from Quebec, yet the latter province has a boys' school (it is not even called a reformatory), which has a long and proud record of having turned out men who were a credit to their province. Set high in the Laurentian, surrounded by lakes and streams and deep forests, this school is built along lines designed to have an appeal to boyish imagination. A boy goes with reluctant feet to serve his "sentence" and finds himself in the land of his juvenile dreams, a place where every boyish wish may be gratified and every fine game indulged. Each boy is out on his honor. He may roam the forests, use the canoes provided, go fishing or exploring. It is said that no boy ever attempted to get away from this place, and that many cannot be driven away. And when the boy leaves the school he is often the superior, mentally, morally and physically of many young lads who have had every opportunity to develop themselves without restraint. He is assisted to a position, and the Province of Quebec is proud, and justly so, of the long list of fine men who have graduated from this school of correction in the mountains.

LIBERALISM AND CONSERVATISM.

(New York Review.)

This paper might have been called either The Liberal or The Conservative without offence to the character which its editors hope to impress upon it. Between true liberalism and true conservatism there exists not only no incompatibility, but on the contrary a vital bond of connection. There is a loose-jointed liberalism which spurns the dear-bought fruits of the past, as there is an ossified conservatism which is incapable of seeing the inspiring possibilities of the future. But the true liberal views the future in the light of a genuine appreciation of the past and the true conservative prizes the past without being blind to the demands of the present and the future.

DISTRUSTFUL OF GERMANY.

(Burlington, Vt., Free Press.)

Premier Clemenceau of France says: "We have waited forty-nine years for this moment," speaking of the announcement that Germany would sign the peace treaty. On the other hand the British press is profoundly distrustful of Germany, as it has a right to be in the light of the sinking of the German fleet interned in British waters. It is held that we cannot afford to regard the Germans otherwise than as treacherous until the last penalty is paid, and most of us will agree that this is a fair diagnosis of the German situation.

A SURE THING.

(Brooklyn Eagle.)

The Germans are bad losers, but they would have been worse winners.

THE TRUTH ABOUT TRAINED ANIMALS.

To the Editor:—Miss Dora Kitto's letter appearing in your issue of July 8, under the above heading must come to those who have never considered how animals are trained to perform tricks on the stage as truly startling revelation.

The formidable array of English and American papers which she names as having published articles dealing with the truth as to what goes on behind the scenes forms in itself a condemnation which should make it impossible for anyone to plead ignorance as an excuse for in any way countenacing performing animal shows.

It is quite possible that some performances may be produced without the infliction of actual torture, but such exceptions are evidently rare and should not be allowed to protect the evil majority.

Animal performances are not necessary to our comfort or health, and there seems to be no reason why they should not be consigned to the limbo of outlawed brutalities along with bear-baiting and cock-fighting.

But if, in spite of the evidence, it is still contended that animals are generally trained for the stage by kindness no one can deny that performing monkeys and wild beasts are kept in small boxes and carted about from place to place in all weathers thereby ensuring of itself enough cruelty to condemn the whole business.

Any one wishing to protest against the continuance of this hidden cruelty can do so by joining the Jack London Club.

News of Mines

The forecast when the armistice came that metalliferous mining in British Columbia would show a decline has not been realized, though the industry has had to pass through severe labor unrest and a decline in prices of certain classes of metals.

Frequent reference has been made from time to time in these columns to the situation with regard to gold mining. Some of the mines have kept open in spite of financial obstacles, and one of them is the Hedley Gold Mining Company, Ltd., operating the Nickle Plate Mine at Hedley. The company has decided to reduce dividends till normal conditions return. The directors state thteir position as follows:

"Your board of directors has felt during the great war that the company must continue to operate as, in addition to the duty it owed its stockholders, there was a duty that it owed to its employees and the people of Hedley dependent on the continued operation at the mine and mill, as well as the patriotic duty it owed the Province of British Columbia, where the properties are located, and the Allies to continue the production of gold, so earnestly desired by the Allied governments."

It mined 67,312 tons of ore last year. The average value was 20,028 tons, $11.18; 47,285 tons, $9.99 per ton. The latter was the lowest grade ore mined in the history of the property. The reserves are stated at 262,000 tons, valued at $9.40 per ton; 87,650 tons, worth $6.00 per ton. Net earnings for 1918 were $132,578.10, of which $108,000 was distributed in dividends.

Extensive development work will be carried out in the near future at the Whitewater and Comstock groups on Cascade Creek in the Lardo district, and the Nonpareil group at Zincton. The properties belong to the Nelson Mining and Development Company, Spokane.

W. W. Shaffner, general manager has returned to Nelson after a trip inspecting the property. He was accompanied by Clarence Marsh, secretary-treasurer of the company; W. Euler, of Soap Lake, Wash., and A. L. Maltbie, of Wenatchee.

They took with them a crew of men which was put to work on the continuation of the No. 2 tunnel at the mine at Cascade Creek. The tunnel has already been driven 120 feet and it is estimated that another 70 or 80 feet will strike the main ore body at the 150 feet depth.

The Cascade properties comprise the Whitewater and Comstock groups. The ore is silver-lead and gold.

Assays show the following values: Silver, 80 ounces; lead, 70; and gold, 80 cents.

The other property is the Nonpareil group at Zincton, in the immediate vicinity of the Lucky Jim mine.

All but two of the Australian copper mines and smelters are reported to have been closed down because of the large stocks of metal on hand and the very small demand, says the U. S. Bureau of Commerce. The National Foreign Trade Council learns from London that this condition has raised the question in interested circles in Great Britain as to whether copper should be imported from the United States to the detriment of the industry in the British Dominions.

Last year 60 per cent. of the British imports of copper came from the United States and only a little over 9 per cent. from Australia. There is a feeling in England that imports from the United States should now be kept down and preference given to the Australian product. This would further reduce Great Britain's adverse balance of trade with the United States.

It is improbable that American copper would be kept out by import restrictions; but it is possible that a subsidy might be given Australian copper to make the price lower than the United States prices.

In 1913 Canada produced 15,012,178 tons of coal. We imported 12,096,227 tons of bituminous, 4,208,862 tons of anthracite and 710,109 tons of coke, says F. E. Lucas, in the final report of the Fuel Controller. In the same year we exported 1,562,020 tons of bituminous and 68,235 tons of coke. From that time forward Canada has lost ground or remained practically stationary, due to shortage of labor and transportation facilities by reason of war conditions, until the 1918 figures show a total coal production of 15,180,000 tons, with imports as follows:

	Tons.
Bituminous coal	17,331,177
Anthracite coal	5,253,751
Coke	969,832
Coal exported in 1918	1,902,010
Coke exported in 1918	26,013

Describing the magnesium sulphate deposits at Epsom Spur, on the C. N. R., three miles from Basque, George C. Crux, in Industrial Progress, says in part: "There are in all five deposits in this immediate vicinity, all of which contain high percentages of magnesium sulphate. They are now known by numbers and designated as follows: Lake No. 1 (containing 6 acres), No. 2 (containing 5 acres), No. 3 (containing 4 acres), No. 4 (containing 3 acres), No. 5 (containing 2 acres). Lake No. 1, the largest of the five deposits, is at the highest elevation about 1,500 feet higher than the railway, or 2,500 feet above the sea level. Lake No. 5, following down the chain, is some 50 feet lower than No. 1. The distance varies from 500 to 2,500 feet. The lakes are of the pothole or basin variety, and are, of course, in the dry belt, where the combined rain and snow fall does not exceed five inches annually. The deposits are covered with water from six inches to one foot from the last of March until June or July. The hot, dry summer winds evaporate the water very rapidly and for the greater part of the year the magnesium sulphate may be removed without difficulty.

"The salts occur in solidified masses of varying shapes and sizes, surrounded by mud rings. Underneath a number of layers is found a solid body of salts. All five deposits are controlled by the Basque Chemical Production Company, of Vancouver, and fairly complete measurements of the deposits have been made. Drilling operations have been carried on to forty feet in depth and the purity of the magnesium sulphate has been found to be remarkably high, indeed. The first three deposits, being larger, are the more important, and a uniform deposition of magnesium."

Nugget, at Sheep Creek, says Mining and Engineering Record, "has the ore of payable grade, and by acquiring the Motherlode mill has secured one of the best gold milling plants for its size on the continent. Development work was promptly taken in hand and is being pushed forward as rapidly as possible from the main tunnel of the Motherlode to the Nugget ground, where there is hardly any doubt that the downward extension of the Nugget ore bodies will be proved up. These will then be opened by stopes, the mill again started up to produce gold bullion; and the preference shares retired from the first profits. This will place the common stock on a first-class basis, and within eighteen months thereafter the ordinary shares should be on the dividend list. There is one thing about this promotion that investors can depend on, and that is they will get a square run for their money."

They have completed nearly 500 feet of tunnel.

J. H. McDonald, of Rossland, has disposed of his Rio Tinto group of claims in the Salmon River district Nelson, to American capitalists for $60,000. The property is situated in the Nelson mining division between the main Salmon River and the international boundary. It is on the same vein as the Electric Point Mine at Northport, Wash. Mr. McDonald acquired the property several years ago. Since then he has done a considerable amount of development work, which has revealed a large body of high-grade silver-lead ore. The vein strikes east and west, ripping to the south. It has been opened up by a series of open crosscuts over a distance of 6,000 feet, revealing well defined lode between walls of schist and lime.

There are two distinct veins on the property. Two crosscut tunnels have been driven to tap the ore bodies. It is understood that the new company will confine its efforts for a time to the development of the No. 2 tunnel, which should tap the ore body at a considerable depth when completed.

The ore is said to be characteristic of the ore in the Sheep Creek camps, carrying good values in gold, silver and lead, with the latter predominating, according to The Nelson News.

A BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily Goes Fishing

Copyright, 1918, by Mecture Newspaper Syndicate.

(By Howard R. Garis.)

One day, when there was no school in Woodland, near the Orange Ice Mountains, where Uncle Wiggily Longears lived, the rabbit gentleman started out for a walk.

I don't mean that Uncle Wiggily had to go to school. Oh, no! But he knew that in the summer vacation none of the animal boys and girls had to study their lessons in the hollow stump where the lady mouse taught how many times A goes into B.

"And, as there is no school I may meet with some of my little friends and have an adventure," thought Uncle Wiggily, as he hopped along over the fields.

He had not hopped very far before, all of a sudden, Uncle Wiggily heard some voices among the trees.

"I'd better hide until I see who is speaking," thought the rabbit gentleman to himself. "It may be the Pipsisewah and the skeezicks, and I havn't little Sallie Waters with me now, to sit in the sun and cry to scare the bad chaps away."

So Uncle Wiggily peeked through the bushes, and to his delight he saw Johnnie and Billie Bushtail, the two squirrel boys.

"Hello, my chattering, nut-eating friends!" cried the rabbit gentleman in his most jolly, pink-nose twinkling voice. "Where are you going?"

"We're going fishing," answered Johnnie.

"Fishing, eh?" exclaimed Uncle Wiggily. "I don't see that you have any fish poles."

"We are going to use our tails for poles," said Billie. "We'll fasten lines to our tails, tie a hook on the line and hang our tails over the brook. Then we'll catch fishes on our hooks."

"Hum! Very good if it all happens as you think it will," laughed Uncle Wiggily. "But suppose the fish don't want to be caught? I know if I were a fish I wouldn't like to bite on a sharp hook."

"Oh, it doesn't hurt the fish any?" chattered Johnnie.

"Doesn't it?" asked Uncle Wiggily. "Well, not being a fish, I don't know."

"Anyhow, we have to catch fish," said Billie. "At least we don't have to, for we don't eat them—we eat nuts; but somebody has to go fishing."

"Yes, I suppose so," said Uncle Wiggily. "Well, as I have nothing to do now I'll go fishing with you two squirrel chaps. Who knows? Perhaps I may have an adventure."

So Uncle Wiggily skipped along through the woods with Johnnie and Billie Bushtail. The squirrel boys had the hooks and lines all ready, and they were going to use their tails for Poles.

"Do you see any place yet where we can go fishing?" asked Billie of his brother.

"Not yet," was the answer. "I'm looking for a little brook where we can catch fishes on a hook."

Uncle Wiggily didn't say anything, but, all of a sudden, as the three friends were hopping along under the trees, there sounded from behind a sassafras bush a voice saying:

"Oh, dear! There it goes! Now I'll never see it again, and I can't have my lollypop! Ah, dear!"

Billie and Johnnie looked at each other. They knew what it was not to have a lollypop when they wanted one.

"Boys," said Uncle Wiggily, to the squirrel chaps, "it seems to me as though there was trouble here. Let's see what it is!"

They went around the corner of the sassafras bush, and there they saw a little house. And in the house was Jillie Longtail, the mousie girl.

"Why, what's the matter, Jillie?" asked Uncle Wiggily, as he saw that she was crying. "What has happened?"

"Oh, I dropped my penny down a crack in the floor and I can't get it up again," sobbed Jillie. "I mean I can't get my penny up, not the crack. And I was going to buy a lollypop with it—I mean the penny, not the crack! O, dear!"

"Don't cry, Jillie," said Uncle Wiggily. "Johnnie and Billie were going fishing in the brook for fish, but I think they will be very glad to go fishing down the crack in the floor for your lollypop penny. Won't you, boys?" he asked.

"Sure we will!" chattered Johnnie and Billie.

Quickly they fastened their fish lines to their tails for poles. Then they fastened hooks on the lines. Next they dropped the hooks and lines down into the crack where Jillie had lost her penny.

Back and forth Billie and Johnnie wiggled their fish lines and hooks down in the crack, and, all of a sudden, Billie cried.

"My hook is fast to the penny!"

"So is mine!" cried Johnnie.

"Then make believe you have a fish and pull up quickly!" cried Uncle Wiggily, twinkling his pink nose.

So, Billie and Johnnie pulled up Jillie's penny from the crack, and when she bought the lollypop she gave each of the squirrel boys a bite. And that's all the fishing they did that day, or Uncle Wiggily, either.

And if chocolate cake doesn't take all the raisins out of the rice pudding to help the gas stove play marbles with, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the nutmegs.

FREE BUFFET SERVED TWELVE MILLION MEN

Victoria Station Buffet Closed After Wonderful Record of Service For Soldiers

The Free Buffet at Victoria Station, London, which will be long remembered by millions of fighting men of the Canadian and British forces, closed down on July 1 after a wonderful record of service. Opened in February, 1915, by a Mrs. Matthews and a band of volunteer helpers, the buffet has never closed for a single day or night. Men returning to France and arriving in England on leave besieged the buffet daily in war time, and many a Canadian soldier will treasure grateful memories of free "feeds" and generous hospitality at this rendezvous.

"We served early breakfasts and late suppers on the platform to the men off the leave trains, as well as refreshments in the buffet at any and every hour in the twenty-four," said Mrs. Matthews to a newspaper representative recently. "During the four and a half years we must have served at least 12,000,000 men. Our busiest time was just after the Armistice, when in December, 1918, we served 428,174 men. Even last month the average number of men served with refreshments daily was 2,000. We are closing down now," added Mrs. Matthews, "because we do not feel justified in using money, raised by voluntary subscriptions, to feed the Army of Occupation."

To mark the closing on July 1 a reception was held at the buffet before it closed down for the last time. Among the guests were a large number of soldiers who had at various times availed themselves of its hospitality.

UNREQUITED AFFECTION.

"Darling!" he cried, in tones of deep emotion. "At last—at last you are safely in my arms, and nothing shall part us!"

The object of his touching words and passionate embrace made no response, but remained cold and silent. Tears welled into his eyes.

"Dearest," he continued, "how can I prove my love? Is there no sacrifice I can make for your sweet sake—no suffering I can endure?"

This final appeal was irresistible.

"The best thing you can do, my man," said a gruff voice, "is to come along with me!"

And a brutal policeman unfastened him from the lamp-post and led him silently away.

FISHING CURE.

Seemed like I couldn't stand it any more,
The factory whistles blowin' day by day.
An' men and children hurryin' by the door,
An' street cars clangin' on their busy way.
The faces of the people seemed to be Washed pale by tears o' grief an' strife an' care
'Till everywhere I turned to I could see
The same old gloomy pictures of despair.
I dropped my tools and took my rod an' line,
An' tackle box an' left the busy town;
I found the favorite restin' spot of mine
Where no one seeks for fortune or renown.
I whistled to the birds that flew about
An' built a lot of castles in my dreams;
I washed away the stains of care an' doubt
An' thanked the Lord for woods an' running streams.

HOW ASSOCIATION OF REAL ESTATE MEN ORIGINATED

Body Here This Week is Proof of Effective Co-operative Effort

Many Victorians will be interested in the career of the Inter-State Realty Association of the Pacific Northwest, whose organization holds a three days' convention here, beginning on Thursday.

The story is told by Frank McCrillis, chairman of the Attendance Committee, in the association's bulletin for this month.

Having traced the history of the Portland realty board, Mr. McCrillis says:

"The Portland board is the father of the Inter-State Association. So much good was being accomplished in Portland through organization that we felt that this same influence should be extended throughout the Northwest. A conference was called and many real estate operators from Oregon and Washington met as guests of the Portland board in the summer of 1916. We had a fine meeting and the desire for a permanent organization was universal. F. E. Taylor, president of the Portland board, was the presiding officer, and he was unanimously elected president of the Inter-State Realty Association, the name selected for the organization.

"The Sound cities did not attend this first meeting. Portland was not sufficiently ambitious to invite them, but President Taylor had a broad vision; he realized that if the organization was to wield its true influence, all the cities and all the dealers in the Pacific Northwest should unite together. The problems of the Northwest are distinctive and apply to all sections of the territory. The most effective way to meet them was through organization. Invitations were extended to all the boards in Oregon, Washington and Idaho, and an attempt was made, where no board existed to organize one. The president, accompanied by his secretary, made a trip 'round the circle to Spokane, Seattle and Tacoma some time prior to the Grays Harbor meeting. This trip resulted in much good. The Sound cities affiliated and the new Grays Harbor board took on a more hopeful view of the 1917 convention which was held at Aberdeen-Hoquiam, August 9 and 10.

"The first annual convention was a success. Many who were at the Portland conference were in attendance and the spirit of good fellowship was manifest everywhere. It was realized that even in its first year, without funds and with but few plans, much good had been accomplished; but much better than the actual accomplishments, was the realization of the good that the organization could do in the future. Fred K. Jones, of Spokane, was elected president and the boys who had borne the burden the first year pledged him loyal support. It was decided to extend the association to include the State of Montana and the southwestern provinces of Canada were also invited to affiliate with us.

"President Jones's year was not a very good one in which to accomplish results. It was an 'off year,' that is, the State Legislatures did not convene in this territory; times were not good; the country was at war, and it was thought wise by many to abandon the convention. Better counsel finally prevailed, however, and the association held its second annual session in the City of Seattle August 29 to 31, 1918. It was a fine meeting. Papers of great importance were delivered by men of acknowledged standing and those in attendance felt repaid many times over for the expense of time and money in making the trip. Delegates from British Columbia were seated for the first time in our meetings, and thus our territory and influence was again extended. E. S. Goodwin, of Seattle, was elected president, and at once made plans for a vigorous membership campaign to strengthen the association and for the accomplishment of beneficial legislation in the territory."

SIDNEY TO HAVE ITS PEACE FESTIVAL

Peninsular Town Arranging For Celebration; Resthaven Hospital to Co-operate

A programme consisting of games and athletic events, music and speeches will be rendered, lasting during the afternoon and evening of Peace Day at Sidney. It is expected that the celebration will be attended generally by the people of North Saanich.

The Sidney Review says: "At a meeting of the Peace Day Committee held at the home of Mr and Mrs. J McNaught, North Third Street, arrangements were discussed and essential details settled. It was stated by Rev. A. E. Stephenson that arrangements were in progress for a clay pigeon shoot, and it was suggested that the shoot might be held in conjunction with the celebration. It has since been learned that the Victoria Gun Club has applied to the local organization for permission to shoot over the Sidney trap on Peace Day, and it is thought probable that this permission will be granted. Mr. Stephenson was asked by the committee to represent the Rod and Gun Club for the purposes of the celebration.

"Discussion took place as to the best means of furnishing refreshments to the people attending the celebration, and it was finally decided to attempt to get caterers to pay for a refreshment concession thus furnishing refreshments at no cost to the celebration committee.

"The churches were asked to form a choir to be composed of singers from all the churches, and it was arranged to start a big combination choir rehearsing at once on patriotic and sacred music for the occasion.

"In the matter of raising sufficient money to defray the expenses of the celebration, it was decided to ask for donations from citizens. It was stated that the object of the celebration was not to make money, and that only a sufficient subscription to meet actual costs would be asked. C. C. Cochran, chairman of the meeting, and Mr. W. H. Dawes, were named as a subscription committee.

"Messrs. P. N. Tester, J. J. White and Ed. Blackburn were appointed as a programme and advertising committee. It was decided that the ministers of the various churches should be asked to give five-minute speeches during the evenng. In addition, Major McKenzie, O. C. Resthaven Military Convalescent Hospital, will be asked to deliver an address. Mr. J. B. Burton stated for the Sidney Amateur Athletic Association, of which he is secretary, that his organization would undertake to put on a lacrosse game and either a football or baseball game. It was also decided to have a general athletic programme of races, etc., for the children.

"Mesdames Anderson and J. McNaught were appointed a committee to look after the matter of supplying an ample quantity of hot water for refreshments. Mesdames T. R. Davis, J. F. Simister and J. T. Taylor were named as a grounds committee, to look after seating arrangements."

"LET'S QUIT ACTING CHILDISH," ADVISES ALDERMAN J. PATRICK

Urges That "Dilly-Dallying" on Housing End; Council Again Procrastinates

To use the words of Alderman Joseph Patrick, the City Council is still "dilly-dallying" over the Dominion Housing Scheme. The question was discussed by the aldermen last night, but once more the Council resolved to continue its policy of watchful waiting and to lay the matter over for another week.

"Let's quit acting childish," declared Alderman Patrick when discussion of the housing question was provoked by a report on the subject from the City Solicitor. "It has come to a showdown! We must do something one way or another. There's no use dilly-dallying any longer!"

Mr. Hannington's report appeared to confirm some of the aldermen in their opinion that the city should not accept its housing allocation.

"If responsibilities which we will have to undertake were generally known," asserted Alderman Fullerton, "the public would see that this scheme is not the grandiloquent thing that it is supposed to be. 'Spend money' seems to be the idea of some people, no matter what the results may be. I remember when that was the motto of the City Council, and look at the financial results to-day! It's not moral to spend money recklessly. The Great War Veterans' Association, whose members, you would think, would benefit more than anybody else from the scheme, have openly and formally denounced it. In the face of that we are continually told to 'spend money.'"

"As a business man you cannot go out and borrow money at five per cent. and build houses at the present cost of materials and come out even," Alderman Patrick agreed. "If the city is to take on this agreement it will have to assume a financial loss. Whether we should do this in the interests of the returned soldier is the only question to be settled."

WANT WAGE ACT TO BE ENFORCED

Labor Council Deprecates Effort "to Perpetuate Human Exploitation"

The strongest opposition to any delay in the enforcement of the Minimum Wage Act respecting women is embodied in a resolution which, passed last night by the Victoria Trades and Labor Council, has been forwarded to J. D. McNiven, Deputy Minister of Labor. The labor organization protests moreover against the action of the British Columbia Manufacturers' Association and the British Columbia branches of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association in urging that the Minimum Wage Act as applied to women be not enforced until the Mathers report is dealt with. In addition, the Labor Council brands this action as the "attempts of mercenaries to perpetuate human exploitation."

The resolution passed by the Trades and Labor Council is as follows:

"Whereas the Minimum Wage Board has been urged by the Manufacturers' Association and Boards of Trade to postpone enactment of the Minimum Wage Act as applied to women over eighteen years of age employed in manufacturing industries.

"And whereas the reasons urged for the postponement are ultra vires of the Minimum Wage Board.

To Deprive Girls of Protection.

"And whereas the clear purpose of the request is to further deprive working girls of that merciful protection which it was the design of the Minimum Wage Act to offer, and which it is the duty of the Board to enforce.

"And whereas section 9 of the Act provides ample machinery for the possible revision of the decisions of the Board;

"Therefore, be it resolved that the Executive Council of the Trades and Labor Council of Victoria offer its strongest opposition to the attempts of mercenaries to perpetuate human exploitation, and that it call upon the Minimum Wage Board to discharge its clear duty without fear or favor by forthwith giving effect to the decisions reached by the recent conference respecting women engaged in manufacturing industries."

THIRD DOSE RELIEF! FIFTH DOSE! DIARRHOEA STOPPED

Diarrhoea does not need to persist for any length of time until the whole system is weakened and debilitated. No other disease so quickly undermines the strength and brings about a condition of prostration and very often total collapse.

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is not only prompt and effectual in checking the diarrhoea, but at the same time acts as a stimulant, strengthens the heart and braces up the whole system, and one of its principal points is that it does not leave the bowels in a constipated condition.

Mr. W. H. Arnold, Fort Qu'Appelle, Sask., writes:—"A few years ago while out threshing, I had a severe attack of diarrhoea. Nothing I took seemed to do me any good. I was getting worse all the time. Hearing that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry was good for diarrhoea, I went into town and procured a bottle. After the third dose I felt relief, and after I had taken the fifth dose the diarrhoea had stopped. I always keep it in the house, and would not be without it."

See that you get the original "Dr. Fowler's." It has been on the market for the past 74 years. Substitutes may endanger your health. Price 35c. Put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

SPORTS of VICTORIA THE NORTHWEST AND THE WORLD

LACROSSE FAR FROM DEAD ON THIS COAST

Con. Jones Made Bad Guess In Estimating Pacific Coast Crowds

Vancouver, July 15. — "Vancouver had the biggest lacrosse crowd since the war on Dominion Day," said P. C. Muldoon, business manager of the Terminals, last night when the Toronto dispatch, containing an outburst from Con Jones was read to him.

"New Westminster last Saturday had the biggest crowd since before the war," continued Pete. "Reports from Victoria state that they have had the biggest crowds there since before the war. Moreover at all three of these cities, which are the only three coast cities in which the game has ever been played for years, the crowds are increasing game by game. The game is a pretty live corpse in Toronto if that is the way it is dead there.

Game is Flourishing.

"When the present Terminal Lacrosse Club started this spring to help revive Canada's national summer game we expected to have the co-operation and goodwill of at least those who had been at the head of the game in previous years, but we have met our only opposition from that quarter. Despite all attempts which for some reason have been made to injure it as a public attraction, the game has never been in a more flourishing condition.

"The new rules adopted by the B. C. L. A. have made lacrosse more attractive than ever and the public are showing the old-time enthusiasm which has always characterized the battles between Vancouver and Westminster."

Con's Toronto Outburst.

The statement from Toronto credited to Con Jones is as follows: "Lacrosse is as dead out on the Coast as it is here, and while I am going to make a try to get into the hockey ring, I cannot but admit that soccer presents the greatest field for my future sporting activities."

WILL NOT STAGE DEMPSEY-MEEHAN BOUT IN MEXICO

Los Angeles, July 15.—Rumors that he intended staging a heavyweight championship bout between Willie Meehan and Jack Dempsey at Ti Juana, Lower California, were strenuously denied here yesterday by Baron Long, well-known sportsman of Southern California.

"It is a joke: nothing but a dream—the wildest kind of a dream," Mr. Long said. "I will not make an offer to Dempsey. I have no intention of doing so. In the first place the border is not open and I do not know when it will be. In the second place, Ti Juana is not possessed with the facilities for the staging of such an affair."

FLAGSTEAD WILL BE ONE OF GREATEST SLUGGERS

Detroit, July 15.—"Ira Flagstead is destined to be one of the greatest hitters in the business. 'Hook' is a good hitter now, and is bound to improve with each day of experience gained in the American League. He takes a healthy cut at the ball and his hits are usually on a line."

Such is the compliment paid to Ira Flagstead, recruit outfielder of the Detroit American League Club, by Tyrus Raymond Cobb, admittedly one of the greatest hitters of all time.

When the American League season opened "Chick" Shorten was Jennings' selection for rightfield. Shorten injured his leg in the opening game against Cleveland. That gave Flagstead his chance. He has hit the ball in such timely fashion that Shorten's chances for breaking back into the game seem very slim.

Flagstead has had a rather remarkable experience since breaking into professional ball three years ago. In 1917, with Tacoma in the Northwestern League, he hit .381 and last year he led the Southern League with exactly the same figure, a peculiar coincidence. At present he is hitting better than .300 in the American League and appears certain to stay in the select class on the form he is showing.

A BIT SPORTY.

A boy was down and another boy was standing over him. A stranger came along and said to the boy who seemed to have had the worst of it: "If you are licked, you ought to say you have had enough."

"That's all right, mister, but so long as I've the go in me to say I've had enough, I'm not licked."

DISPUTE AS TO WHO ARE BRITISH CHAMPS

Much Discussion As to Who Are Enntitled to Heavy, Light and Bantamweight Honors

London, July 15.—British boxing championships, as recognized by the National Sporting Club, are in topsy-turvy state to-day.

Three championships—heavy, light and bantamweight—are held by men whom the club refuses to recognize. And of the three championships in question, an American may be entitled to one.

The heavyweight title is claimed by Joe Beckett, who vanquished Billy Wells, holder of the belt. But the club has ignored Beckett.

In the light heavyweight class, Dick Smith, who meets Georges Carpentier at Strasburg this month, holds the title. But Smith hasn't fought under the auspices of the National Sporting Club for a long time, and while he was busy training for his fight with the Frenchman the club staged a match between Boy McCormick and Harold Rolph, and awarded the title to McCormick, who won when Rolph was disqualified.

The awarding of the championship to McCormick has brought protest from the press, which holds that McCormick and Rolph are second-raters, both having been defeated by Eddie McCoorty of St. Paul and Augie Ratner of New York.

Lynch Beats Noble.

There has been some criticism of the club officials on what is described by one paper as going back on their announced policy of May, 1918. At the time it was declared at the club that the Lord Lonsdale belt—emblematic of the British boxing championship—would be open to Americans. If this were followed out, Joe Lynch, the New York bantam, would be entitled to claim the British bantam championship. Lynch won an unquestioned decision over Tommy Noble, the British champion, in a 20-round bout here a few months ago.

DASHES AND RELAY RACE AT GALA WILL FURNISH MUCH EXCITEMENT

Complete List of Entries Shows That Competition in Every Event Will Be Exceptionally Keen—Records Are Expected to Be Broken

Competition in every championship event at the P. N. A. gala at the Gorge on Saturday afternoon will be exceptionally keen and it is expected that several new swimming records will be hung up. During their practices three of the local water stars have succeeded in breaking the official times over some of the distances and it is understood that many of the outside athletes have improved their speed during the past year.

The officials of the gala have succeeded in compiling a list of entries. In some events there are twenty entries, which include many of the fastest boys that ever crawled through the water of the Northwest. Sensational swimming is expected in the 50 and 100-yard dashes for men. Twenty entries from Spokane, Vancouver, Seattle, Portland and Victoria have been received for these events, which shows that the meet will be thoroughly representative of the Northwest.

Relay Race Will Be Fast.

One of the most spectacular events on the lengthy programme will be the relay race. The Spokane Y. M. C. A. Multnomah Swimming Club of Portland, Crystal Swimming Pool, of Seattle, and the V. I. A. A. of this city have entered fast teams and the waters will be thrashed into a foam by the leg and arm actions of the swimmers as they tear on towards the goal. Tighe and Wheeler have offered a splendid cup for the winners of this race.

Victoria is conceded the best chance for annexing the water polo championship. Last year the Portland club beat out the local boys by two goals after an exciting match. This year the V. I. A. A. has a greatly strengthened team and is quite confident of capturing the Victoria Cup, which has been presented by an anonymous donor.

Movie Man Will Be There.

A representative of the British-American Film Co. will be at the gala to record for the outside world the greatest swimming meet ever held in the Northwest. Special provision is being made to assure him of an unobstructed view of the competitions.

There will be strong rivalry between the clubs for possession of the handsome cup which has been donated by Little and Taylor for the club scoring the greatest number of points. The Brown cup which has been presented for the competitor scoring the greatest number of points, will cause further rivalry between the individuals competing.

List of Entries.

DECISION ON K. O.

New York, July 15.—The board of boxing control, in an official statement to-night, announced that but forty-seven seconds of the third rest period had elapsed in the Dempsey-Willard bout when Willard's seconds tossed a towel into the ring as a token of defeat. The board also decided the bout ended in the third round. These decisions were made as a result of numerous inquiries received from all parts of the country.

LOOKING THINGS OVER

More Local Swimmers Should Be Entered.

It is hard to understand the apathy of the majority of local swimmers towards the P. N. A. gala which is being held at the Gorge on Saturday. One club has furnished all but one of the city's entries and the remaining four swimming clubs have failed to take any interest in the meet. It is known that certain friction has been created between the clubs, which is to be very much regretted, but in a meet of this kind, where there are so many championships at stake and an opportunity is afforded local stars to match their skill and speed against a brilliant array of outsiders, it is hard to understand why they should hold back. Some of the boys say that they do not wish to swim as they would be outclassed, but that is not a sporting spirit. One of the swimming clubs here has arranged to hold a picnic on the day of the gala. There is certainly a "nigger in the fence" somewhere and until the sporting sections get pulling together they can never expect to get very far. This swimming meet will be one of the best ever held on the Pacific Coast and Victoria water stars are letting down their own city when they hold aloof and fail to enter.

Con Jones Made Wildest Guess of His Life.

Con Jones is always breaking into the limelight in some way or another. His latest spasm of newspaper talk is to the effect that lacrosse on this coast is dead. Without doubt the game is in a more flourishing condition to-day than it has been for many years. When the war was on it was impossible to field teams of any calibre, but now the boys are home the national game has bounded back into favor. It is doubtful if Victoria ever fielded a faster team than that which is out in front of the B. C. League at present. Vancouver and Westminster are both fighting hard and the games are worth going miles to see. The crowds at the games are very large, which is an indication as to whether or not lacrosse is dead.

Rowing Championships at Stake Again.

The news from Vancouver that the International championships will be held there on August 16 was received with much gratification by local rowers. For five years the J. B. A. A. and Vancouver Rowing clubs have not pulled beats in any international regatta and are keen at getting back into the game. The Bays have selected a four-oar crew which is one of the most powerful that has ever rowed under its colors. It has one victory over Vancouver this year. Portland, however, is the dark horse and will need a lot of watching, but they will have to move through the water at a furious clip if they wish to take the honors. In the singles and doubles the Bays will have strong representatives. A couple of championships should come over from the Mainland.

RICHARDSON LOSES OUT IN BIG SHOOT

Good Shooting in Alexandra Match; Exciting Shoot-off For Graphic Prize.

London, July 15.—(C. A. P.)—The entries for the Prince of Wales shoot at Bisley, ten shots at 300 and 600 yards and open only to previous medal winners were 217, or 108 fewer than in 1914.

The entries for the Alexandra match, ten shots at 200 and 600 yards, open to all comers, were 802 against 857 before the war.

Further Canadian results in the Alexandra were: Utton, 138th Battalion, seventy; C. A. Wood, 142nd Battalion, seventy; Faulkner, 158th, seventy; Johnson, 164th, seventy; Newman, 180th, sixty-nine; Roberts, 185th, sixty-nine.

All the above were in the prize list.

Chanton, 201st; Lucas, 203rd; Richardson, 217th; Burton, 223rd; scored sixty-eight and were counted out of the prize list.

Won Graphic Prize.

Lieut. Vincent, of Hamilton, secured The Daily Graphic first prize, after an exciting shoot-off with Pte. Ford, of London, and Corporal Noyon, of Guernsey.

Vincent scored a bull, a magpie and a bull: Noyon two inners and a bull, while Ford scored two bulls and a magpie, all three thus equalizing with 13.

Vincent then made a bull and his rivals an inner apiece.

Captain Martin, of Calgary, won The Daily Graphic cup, after shooting off with Captain Mackenzie, of the Black Watch. Martin scored two bulls and an inner and Mackenzie a magpie and two inners.

Beaten by One Point.

Lieut. Smeltzer, of Baden, Ont., shot off with Cpl. Cope, of Africa, and Arkell, of the City Rifle Club, for leading places in The Daily Telegraph match. All three started with magpies. Smeltzer then made a bull; Cope an inner and Arkell a magpie. Smeltzer's third shot was a magpie, and Cope a bull, thus beating the Canadian by one point, Arkell scoring only an outer.

Richardson Shot Well.

The Canadian scores in the Prince of Wales match at 200 yards yesterday were: Lieut. Balfour, Edmonton, 36; Major Elmett, Ottawa, 32; Lieut. E. T. Francis, Edmonton, 36; Major R. G. Hutchinson, Toronto, 39; Captain Martin, Calgary, 41; Major G. Mortimer, Ottawa, 41; Sergeant R. G. Morris, Winnipeg, 39; Lieut.-Colonel W. Rae, Vancouver, 38; Major F. Richardson, Victoria, 45; Major F. W. Utton, Toronto, 43; Sergeant D. McInnes, Edmonton, 35; Sergeant H. R. Robertson, Toronto, 40.

OAKLAND SIGNS MULLER

Charley Mullen, who played with Victoria this season and who had a year or two experience in the Majors, will play ball with the Oakland Club, if advices from Toledo are authoritative. Word from the Ohio city last night said that Roger Bresnahan, to whom Mullen belongs, has sold the local man to the Oaks. The price as named is $500.

BASEBALL

New York regained the lead in the National League, defeating Pittsburg in the third game of the series. The Giants won in the third inning, knocking Miller out of the box. Four runs were scored on four hits, including a triple by Chase, a base on balls and an error by Miller.

Cincinnati got a bad dubbing from Philadelphia and is now in second place. The Phillies bunched their hits in the third and sixth and drove two Red pitchers from the box.

Chicago continued to increase its lead in the American. A home run by Eddie Collins, scoring two runners ahead of him, clinched the game for the White Sox. Chicago has a soft series with Boston.

New York is still sliding and Cleveland is closing in on second place. Detroit defeated the Yankees for the third time yesterday. Joseph pitched the Indians to an easy win over Washington. The fight for the American pennant gets hotter every day. While New York is slipping Cleveland is forcing hard and Detroit and St. Louis are coming strong.

BANQUET TO TWO MEMBERS TUESDAY

Board of Trade Dinner Will Mark Successful Conclusion of Drydock Fight

As an expression of Victoria's thanks to Dr. S. F. Tolmie, M. P., and J. C. McIntosh, M. P., for their services in securing the bgi drydock for Esquimalt and as a termination of the political war which has been proceeding over this issue a dinner will be tendered these gentlemen next Tuesday evening at the Alexandra House.

Arrangements for the affair are in charge of a committee of the Board of Trade, which is responsible for the plan. The dinner will be held at 6 o'clock, and the proceedings, it is expected, will terminate at 8, thus giving the visitors their evening free. Music and vocal numbers will be an additional attraction.

Following the dinner J. O. Cameron, President of the Board of Trade, will express in formal terms the city's appreciation for the work of the Federal members for Victoria and Nanaimo. In addition, illuminated addresses, expressing the same sentiments, will be presented to the members.

Tickets will be sold first to Board of Trade members who are requested to secure their tickets before Thursday evening at 5 o'clock. After that time other ladies and gentlemen who wish to attend will be able to purchase tickets.

GENERAL LECKIE TO LEAD THE VETERANS

Military Chief Will Marshal Ex-Service Men in Peace Parade

It is understood that Major-General Leckie will be in command of the military portion of the parade on Saturday, and as far as possible, commanding officers of the various regiments will lead the men of their former units.

Arrangements have been made for automobiles to call at the Esquimalt Convalescent Hospital to bring in the wounded men. The wounded will have the lead in the procession, and cars will also be provided for the returned men who are unable to stand the strain of a lengthy walk, or of standing to witness the ceremonies.

The Celebration Committee is anxious that every unit of the Army and Navy should be represented in the parade, as well as every organization. Mayor Porter has invited the various Consuls to attend and F. Westley Newton, secretary of the Committee, announces that Peace floats have been promised by the Navy League, Esquimalt Military Hospital, Great War Veterans, Saanich Municipality; Red Cross Society, French residents, American residents, Belgian residents, Scottish and Gaelic Societies, Canadian Club, Italian, Greek, Japanese and Chinese residents.

The first of the material for the big Peace Arch was delivered to-day. Local lumber concerns have kindly supplied the lumber and the Foundation Company in its usual public spirited manner has undertaken to erect the structure. The local electrical firms have undertaken to wire the arch for the night lighting, and the I. O. D. E. will furnish the floral decorations, flowers to be delivered at the headquarters, Jones Building. As immense quantities of flowers are needed, offers of contributions should be made early to Mrs. A. F Griffiths, I. O. D. E., Jones Building.

To-day's Temperature.—A southwesterly breeze helped to lower the temperature in Victoria to-day, providing a refreshing change after the sultry heat of yesterday. According to F. Napier Denison, Superintendent of the Meterological Society, the maximum temperature registered at Gonzoles Heights up till noon to-day was sixty-one degrees, although it is generally conceded that the mercury reached a greater height in the business section of the city. Yesterday's maximum was 84.5 degrees.

COURT OF APPEAL DELIVERS JUDGMENT

City's Case Against Bailey Disposed Of; the Judgment List

The Court of Appeal this morning dismissed the appeal in the case of the City of Victoria vs. Bailey, the Chief Justice and Mr. Justice Eberts dissenting in part.

The effect of the judgment is to enable the City Local Improvement Commissioners to hand down the final award in the revision of the assessments for local improvements upon Pandora Avenue. It was an expropriation case where the city's title was questioned. It enables the Commissioners to make a final report to the City Council on the amount which it will be necessary to find in order to carry the difference between assessment of owners, and the obligations of the city under the Victoria City Relief Act No. 2 of last year.

In Collister vs. Read the appeal was allowed, Mr. Justice Galliher dissenting.

In Wilson vs. McLellan, the appeal was dismissed.

In the estate of Van Horne, the appeal was dismissed, Justices Martin and McPhillips dissenting.

In Johnson vs. Minister of Lands, the appeal was allowed.

In Wand vs. Mainland Transfer Company, the appeal is allowed in part, the verdict being reduced by $2,000, leaving the judgment at $16,000, appellant to pay costs.

Canadian Bank of Commerce vs. Telford, appeal dismissed, Chief Justice dissenting.

Brooks vs. B. C. E. Railway and Dumphy vs. B. C. E. Railway, appeals dismissed, Mr. Justice McPhillips dissenting.

Schelking vs. Chomie, appeal dismissed.

Sawyer vs. Millett, appeal dismissed, Mr. Justice McPhillips dissenting.

Beck vs. Voight, appeal dismissed.

In John vs. Courtney, a motion for leave to re-argue, the appeal was dismissed.

In Skeene vs. Royal Bank of Canada, the appeal was dismissed with costs.

The balance of the appeals, that is the list of cases heard at the last sitting of the Court of Appeal, will be delivered, it is expected, on September 15, according to Chief Justice Macdonald.

NEW OWNERSHIP WILL NOT AFFECT FINDING

Cowdray Interests Now Control Coldstream Estate and Irrigation

Confirmation of the report that the Cowdray interests have obtained possession of the Coldstream Estate and the White Valley Irrigation System has now reached The Times. It is understood that James Buchanan and others besides Lord Cowdray are interested in the venture which it is proposed to develop or sell.

Discussing this particular question with Water Controller Cleveland this morning The Times representative was informed that any new developments affecting the ultimate ownership of this famous Okanagan estate and water system would not in any way interfere with or hinder the work of the commission now sitting in behalf of the water users of the Vernon district.

It was generally understood that the White Valley Company had reached the end of its resources and unless proper provision was taken to maintain and increase the water service a very considerable amount of hardship and loss would face the orchardists of the locality.

To gather accurate information on the subject the commission was recently appointed by the Provincial Government on the recommendation of the Minister of Lands, and it is now presumed that its findings will be placed before the new owners.

This being the case it is taken for granted that any development undertaken by the Cowdray interests would be of an aggressive type that should be of considerable benefit to the seriously handicapped water users throughout the Vernon district.

LABOR SITUATION WILL BE THEME

Miss Tarbell Wires Subject of Chautaugua Address

Miss Ida M. Tarbell, the well-known lecturer, in her address here during the forthcoming Chautauqua, will speak on the labor situation. A wire to this effect was received to-day.

The local committee, it may be stated, is securing a considerable revision of the conference programme, which had a strong American tinge owing to the bulk of the Chautauquas being held in the United States. Instead a programme in keeping with Canadian ideas will be presented when the Chatuauqua begins on Friday week. A number of the speakers will be men and women who have been acting in war lecturing and writing during the last two years.

The Mayor and Council have given permission to have the big Chautuqua brown tent pitched on the city property at the rear of the Empress Hotel.

Private Peat, the well-known Canadian veteran, who has lectured so extensively in the neighboring republic, following his famous book, is one of the speakers listed to appear on the programme.

Among the important musical features at the Chautauqua will be the famous Czech-Slovak band, under Jaroslav Cimera's direction, which will be here on the fifth day.

ANGLICAN SUMMER SCHOOL NOW OPEN

Professors From University of Washington to Participate; Mr. Kennedy's Lectures

"What we need to do is to take Japan seriously," said the Rev. F. W. C. Kennedy, in opening a series of lectures on that country at the Victoria Summer School this morning. Mr. Kennedy has twenty-one years in Japan.

"We are very much like the Pharisee in the old story of the Pharisee and publican," continued the speaker. "We think we are the whole thing. There are many things that Japan can teach us. It is self-preservation that has caused Japan to advance to her present position.

"Some fear that Japan may become a second Germany. I don't think she will," said Mr. Kennedy, "but she may be. If she does, it will be our fault. Much depends on the way in which British Columbia treat them, and on the manner in which our Governments treat them."

Educational matters, commencial affairs, the habits and customs of the people and other intimate topics of life in th eastern country were vividly sketched by the lecturer, who also enlightened his hearers on the history of Japan. In 1641, he pointed out, all intercourse with Europe and Europeans ceased, and for 212 years, Japan was a hermit nation. During this time the people were being welded together into a great nation, developing a strong national life and an intense patriotic spirit. The lecturer touched on the history of other nations in relation to Japan, and the circumstances that led to the final reopening of the country.

To-morrow morning, Mr. Kennedy said, he would deal with a subject of special interest at the present hour: "Japan and Korea."

To-night's Programme.

Two professors of the University of Washington were announced to speak this evening. Dr. Robert Max Garrett, Associated Professor of English Literature, will open the series of lecture on Social Science, and the Rev. Herbert H. Gowen, Professor of Oriental Literature, is to begin his address on "Ezekiel, the Prophet of Reconstruction," his subject to-night being, "The Man and His Time." The evening sessions take place at 7.30 and 9 o'clock respectively.

Good Attendance.

Good attendances marked the first meetings of the school held in the attractive surroundings of St. George's School, Rockland Avenue. Rev. Ralph S. Mason's remarks on Sunday School work provoked a lively interest, and a forceful address was delivered by Archdeacon Heathcote on the "Forward Movement."

Entertained at Government House—The Lieutenant-Governor and Lady Barnard will entertain at dinner to-night in honor of Chas. Williams, late honorary secretary-treasurer of the Red Cross Society, and R. H. Swinerton, honorary secretary of the Victoria Patriotic Aid, in recognition of their devoted services to these patriotic causes. In addition to the guests of honor the party will include a number of others associated with them in these activities.

PRETTY WEDDING

Miss Doris M. Hunt Married to Walter H. Harris on Saturday at Christ Church.

At Christ Church Cathedral, at high noon on Saturday, a pretty wedding was celebrated by the Rev. Dean Quainton, when Doris Mabel, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin C. Hunt, 1007 Collinson Street, was married to Walter H. Harris, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Harris, of Folkestone, Kent, England. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, looked very pretty in her gown of white georgette, with picture hat to match and carrying a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses. Her only attendant, Miss May McDonald, wore pale blue crepe de chine with pink picture hat, and was wearing a corsage bouquet of pink roses. Fred Banks attended the groom. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Harris left later for Vancouver, where their honeymoon is being spent.

Romano — Margarita Fisher in "Mollie of the Follies," and Pearl White serial, "The Lightning Raider."

ROYAL VICTORIA

Yesterday at the Royal Victoria one of the best programmes that has ever been presented was shown for the first time. It included Charlie Chaplin in his third million dollar picture "Sunnyside." This picture alone is worth the price of admission as the audience simply rocked themselves with laughter at the antics of this well-known comedian.

"The Chance of a Lifetime" an English made film written by Nat Gould the greatest of living racing novelists was also presented. The strong racing element in this picture cannot fail to attract all lovers of sport. In addition there is a tense theme of dramatic mystery running the whole way through that will hold the interest of any audience. Saying again it is a British made film and it is well worth a visit and is a picture that every Canadian lover of sport should see.

DOMINION

Charlie Chaplin in his new million dollar "Sunnyside" will be shown at the Dominion all this week. "Sunnyside" is a comedy rich in entertainment and one of the most human of all his stories. There is a real romance in it. Charlie is in love with a country maiden and his dream of happiness is badly upset when a city chap spills himself out of his automobile in front of the hotel where Charlie is the full staff of help, and Charlie imagines he has a dangerous rival. Complications follow, which abound in hearty laughs and fun aplenty. On the same programme Elsie Ferguson is also presented in her new production, "Eyes of the Soul."

Immediately after the appearance of "The Salt of the Earth" in the Post the screen rights were obtained by the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation. A few days later, while Miss Ferguson was waiting for a scene at the studio, she read part of the story. So interested did she become that upon her return to her home she read it all through. The next morning she called up the production department and asked if it would be possible to obtain the picture rights for her.

VARIETY

One of the interesting features of "The Hidden Truth," Anna Case's first picture, a Select super-attraction that opened the Variety yesterday afternoon, is that the music theme of the production is based on that popular old ballad, "Annie Laurie," a song that Miss Case has been requested to sing perhaps more often than any of her contemporaries, because of the exquisite rendition she gives it.

Miss Case is a world-famous grand opera prima donna, and it is predicted that it will not be long before she becomes as great a star in the moving picture field as she has become in the music world.

Miss Case is a world-famous grand opera prima donna, and it is predicted that it will not be long before she becomes as great a star in the moving picture field as she has become in the music world.

That her success as a singer will be duplicated by the success she will make as a picture star is the opinion of those who are in a position to know. She is keenly susceptible to all phases of emotion—her life has not been a bed of roses and experience has taught her to feel—and the screen does not deny the assertion that Anna Case is one of the most beautiful women in grand opera.

COLUMBIA

Jack Mulhall, Mary MacLaren's leading man in her new special production, "Creaking Stairs," which Rupert Julian directed at Universal City, is a college man. He received his higher education at Columbia and on the screen. He has co-starred with Louise Lovely and Carmel Myers, Ruth Stonehouse and Flora Parker De Haven. But Jack, as befitting a man of superior education and attainments, has had greater ambitions than to co-star. He has been featured in his own right—but says he is quite willing to support so capable a star and so charming a young and talented woman as Mary MacLaren. Mulhall has a fine role in "Creaking Stairs," to be shown at the Columbia again to-day, and under Director Julian's sponsorship has developed a telling character out of the script—Fred Millard.

ROMANO

Margarita Fisher, the "Flying A" star of the American Film Company, was presented in her latest picture, "Molly of the Follies," at the Romano yesterday.

This is a novel picture, written by Peter Clark MacFarlane, famous author of many interesting stories, in which Miss Fisher portrays the role of Molly, the sideshow ballyhoo dancer. Miss Fisher does dainty and appealing work in this feature, and those who are acquainted with her performance in the past can readily realize that this role is exactly suited to her. Her support includes Jack Mower, J. Farrell MacDonald, character man; Lule Warrenton and other prominent screen folk.

In addition to this entertaining comedy an episode of Pearl White's thrilling serial, "The Lightning Raider," was shown.

SAFELY DROWNED.

They had spent half the morning on the beach, and now the blue sea beckoned to them. A few minutes later they were wading out through the shallow water.

"It's up to my waist," said Tommy, timorously.

"Take hold of papa's hand, then," said his mother.

Tommy obeyed, and advanced as bravely as he could into the deepening water. He was a good little boy, and always did as he was told. But presently he murmured tearfully:

"Papa, it's up to my neck."

"Then be sure you don't let go," replied his father.

Tommy's grip tightened as they advanced still farther into the briny depths. Then his mother looked about.

"Good gracious!" she exclaimed. "Wherever has Tommy disappeared to?"

"Oh, he's all right!" replied his father, complacently. "I've got hold of his hand!"

DANCE REVUE IS BIG ATTRACTION

Dwight Pepple-Greenwald Production at Pantages Offers Terpsichorean Numbers

Featuring the "1919 Song and Dance Revue" with Kathryn McConnell and Toots McConnell in the leading feminine roles, apart from five other excellent acts, the Pantages show this week offers the best vaudeville seen out this way in many moons. The song and dance revue is a Dwight Pepple-Greenwald production of elaborate conception which should be sufficient guarantee of the best class of vaudeville. All the very latest dances and song numbers are introduced and the most notable contribution to the programme is provided by Kathryn McConnell whose terpsichorean efforts and costumes are, to say the least, daringly attractive.

In black net, she presents a startling vampire dance and a series of amazing contortions in varied and abbreviated costume are terminated with a true conception of the famous Hula-Hula dance, typical of the Hawaiian Islands. Her interpretation of the "Jazz" and the latest "shimmie" dances are a distinct feature.

This vivacious, though angular lady, is a complete act in herself and her appearance was greeted by first night audiences with tumultuous applause.

Toots McConnell and Ford Hanford, the other leading members of the cast, are somewhat overshadowed by the daring Kathryn. Toots, however, is a dainty singer and dancer, and Hanford possesses a fine tenor voice. Also there is a well-drilled chorus of pleasing damsels who add to the glitter of the show.

The dances of the season are excellently presented. The company carries a very elaborate wardrobe and the scenic effects add to the gorgeousness of this particularly attractive show.

Eloise Amoros and Obey are Parisian Eccentriques who appear as the opening number and provide a whirlwind performance. Eloise is a dainty and live performer who injects most of the punch into the act. This is undoubtedly one of the best tumbling acts ever seen over the circuit.

Bert Melrose, famous as an international clown, is making a real hit with Pantages audiences. Bert stages his remarkable fall after much preliminary entanglement. Betty Brooks, as the "Gladsome Girl," is a petite little creature who sings with an Irish brogue and dances engagingly. She varies her programme by impersonating famous dancers. Betty is a beautiful girl and she makes a charming "boy."

Myers and Weaver put on a show that is typical of Arkansaw and appear to have little trouble in finding favor. They specialize in farm implements which for the time being are converted into musical instruments.

"Lots and Lots of It," is a laughable sketch presented by Joseph Greenwald & Co. The act has been over the circuit before, but has lost nothing of its attractiveness.

The eighth episode of the serial film "The Man of Might" rounds out an excellent show.

PHILLIES AND CARDINALS EXCHANGE FIVE PLAYERS

New York, July 15.—A trade involving five players was put through here yesterday by the Philadelphia and St. Louis National League Clubs. St. Louis traded Pitcher Lee Meadows and First-Baseman Jean Paulette for Pitchers F. H. Wodward and Elmer Jacobs and Infielder Douglas Baird. Meadows is famous as the only big league player who wears spectacles while playing.

PAVING LONDON WITH BREAD

Eight thousand two-pound loaves an hour. Nearly seventy-one million in year. Such is the capacity of the world's largest bakehouse. The City of London could be paved with bread two feet thick from its ovens. Every half-second a loaf comes tumbling out, to shoot down to the floor beneath, where a fleet of two hundred and fifty vans is waiting to deliver the bread.

Watching the automatic process of baking and delivery at Lyon's bread factory at Cadoy Hall, the T-B. man gained some idea of the swiftness with which people are fed.

Loaves, loaves, yet more loaves: they fell in an endless stream from an enormous oven—fifty feet long— helter-skelter down a shoot to be arranged on trays, and loaded on to the motor vans which assemble outside the bakery at five o'clock each morning, prior to starting on their journeyings.

The converting of the dough into the loaf ready for delivery occupies exactly forty-five minutes, and not the least wonderful feature of the process is that the materials are only handled once, and then but momentarily. The latest electric installation and appliances make it unnecessary for the bread to be handled after the dough has been placed in the oven.

The process of production of a loaf at Cadby Hall has a fascinating educational side. From the mill the flour passes to the "blender," which is capable of handling six different brands at one time. An automatic weighing machine intercepts it on its way to the dough machine, where it is mixed to a proper consistency. Then it is transferred to troughs, where it is allowed to rise.

From these troughs the dough is passed through a "dividing" machine, an ingenious contrivance which divides it into thirty-six exactly equal portions every minute, each of which, after being tested and "proven" in various ways, passes into the oven, to emerge the familiar two-pound loaf.

At various stages in the making, samples of dough are tested to ascertain if they are up to the standard weight, whilst finally, when being passed on to the trays, each loaf is weighed.

In the days of our grandmothers the baking of ten to twelve loaves a week was a big item. To-day you can get a dozen in as many seconds.—Tit-Bits.

A smart city hairdresser received a shock when an old countryman planted himself down in a vacant chair and asked to have his hair cut. Never in his life had the barber seen such an extraordinary crop of hair. It stuck up in wild, unkempt tufts of different lengths, and looked more like a half-worn mop than anything else.

"H'm," said the man with the scissors, "who cut your hair last?"

"Oh, my wife did," answered the yokel, with a shamefaced expression.

"What did she do it with, eh?"—snorted the barber, disdainfully—"a knife and fork?"

American Bantamweight Will Try to Win British Championship

New York, July 15.—Cable news from England will have a special interest for fight fans next Thursday. On that night Pal Moore, the bantamweight of Memphis, and well known throughout the country in all boxing centres, will try to wrest the British championship title from Jimmy Wilde, the best man England has been able to boast since popular Jam Driscoll's reign among the featherweights.

They are scheduled to box twenty rounds. Moore has been on the other side for some time and is now winding up a strenuous siege of training at Stammoor. He is full of confidence, which is shared by his manager, Nate Lewis, of Chicago.

When Wilde and Moore met before in a short bout last winter, Moore was given the decision. There was a great hue and cry about it, many thinking Wilde was given the worst if it by the referee. Others thought Moore was entitled to the victory, among them Jem Driscoll, who seconded Wilde.

HAL CHASE PULLS ONE OF WAGNER'S TRICKS

Hal Chase perpetrated a feat in the first game of a recent double header in Brooklyn that brought to mind one of the favorite stunts practiced by Hans Wagner when the Flying Dutchman was in his prime. With Zimmerman on first base in the eighth inning and Chase at bat, a hit and run play was decided upon. Otto Miller, anticipating such a move, called for pitch out, which Larry Cheney delivered. I ad the ball gotten by Chase, Zimmerman, who had darted off first base would have been trapped, but Chase foiled the Robins by throwing his bat at the ball, knocking the pellet into right center for a two-base hit. Nap Lajoie was a wizard at this same stunt in the American League.

NEW ZEALAND CREW WILL ROW IN BIG AMERICAN REGATTA

New York, July 15.—The New Zealand eight-oar boat crew that won the recent race on the Seine in which crews from the expeditionary forces of all the Allies took part is expected to be among those to compete at the annual regatta of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen on Lake Quigsigamond at Worcester, Mass., August 1 and 2. Crack crews from Canada, England and France are to take part in the events. Two races will be between soldiers and sailors. Maj.-Gen. John F. O'Ryan will give a loving cup to the winner in one of these service events, and John J. F. Mulcahy, president of the Atlanta Boat Club, will give a similar prize to the winner of the other race.

The New Zealand crew, which has asked permission to take part in the regatta, defeated crack crews, many of them having some of the best oarsmen in the world, at the meet on the Seine. The crew will cross the United States on the way back to New Zealand. An invitation has been cabled these oarsmen, and they are expected to be on hand. Other foreign crews have notified James Pilkington, president of the association, that they will participate.

CALGARY ANXIOUS TO GET BALL CLUB THERE

Calgary, July 15.—Calgary's chances of getting back into organized professional baseball for 1920 appear bright. In a letter to a local baseball promoter yesterday, Nick Williams, who holds the Spokane franchise, says he will be in Calgary in a day or two to size up prospects. He is figuring on a league between Butte, Spokane, Great Falls, Lethbridge, Calgary and Edmonton.

Prestident Miley, of the Western Canada League, is in the city also sizing up conditions for a Calgary franchise in his league next season.

An array of ten of the fastest California mermaids will come here to try for the beautiful medals and trophies under the personal supervision of Robert W. Dodd, president of the Pacific association of the Amateur Athletic Union.

Swimming enthusiasts from all sections of the country well be on hand to see the girls in the competitions.

FIGHTING ONE BIG UNION IN AUSTRALIA

W. Foxcroft, Back in Vancouver, Describes Conditions in Commonwealth

Vancouver, July 15.—Labor conditions in Australia are less favorable than in this country, according to William Foxcroft, formerly president of the Vancouver Trades and Labor Council, who has returned from the Antipodes, where he had spent the past five years.

While cost of living in the Commonwealth is less than in this country, the standard of living for the worker is lower, and the wage schedule is lower, he says. The accommodation and comforts of the Australian hotels patronized by the workers do not compare with those of the hotels of this country, while in the larger cities residential sections in which the workers reside resemble the slum districts of New York more than they do the cottage homes of the workers of Canadian cities.

Apathy

The Australian labor unions, Mr. Foxcroft says, are more apathetic than those in this country, and the unskilled laborer is in a better position than the craftsmen and skilled artisans. A Federal board directs the wages of artisans, but does not interfere with conditions on the job. It is a common thing, especially in the building trades, he declares, to see the skilled artisan going to work half an hour before the unskilled laborer on the same job and continuing at work for half an hour longer, receiving but a few shillings a week more than the man who works four hours a week less.

Labor is divided into various organizations which are at war with each other. Practically all the workers are organized in one of these forms of unionism. The Australian Workers' Union, which has a membership of 100,000, he says, is leading the fight against the One Big Union. The One Big Union flourished for a time, but is now on the decline, and it looks as if it will eventually be eliminated as an important factor in the Australian labor world, he says.

LONDON VETERANS AND LIQUOR CASES UNDER ONTARIO ACT

London, Ont., July 15.—Now the Prince of Wales is being drawn into the argument over the imprisonment of five war veterans here for offences against the Ontario Temperance Act.

The men are serving terms in the county jail for drinking and are anxious to be liberated in time to participate in next Saturday's peace demonstration.

The London branch of the Great War Veterans' Association announced that it would take no part in the proceedings if the men were left in the cells. The Veterans now add that if pardon is not granted by Friday night the members of the Great War Veterans' Association will refrain from taking part in the reception to be tendered the Prince of Wales when he comes to London next October.

There is, however, reason to believe that the soldiers will be released from the jail in ample time to take part in the peace celebration.

BOSTON LEPER FOUND IN PHILADELPHIA

Philadelphia, July 15.—Local health authorities state that Nicholas Foniadakias, a leper who escaped from a Boston hospital on May 21, was found working in a restaurant in this city last Friday, and was isolated in the Philadelphia Hospital for Contagious Diseases on Sunday. Foniadakias said he had come from Greece eight years ago. After escaping from Boston, he said, he worked in a restaurant in New York and later came to this city.

"MADE IN CANADA."

the Liberal Unionists have given their adhesion have not been defined in any official pronouncement, but the Conservative press declares that the maintenance in its integrity of the policy of adequate protection must be the foundation stone of Unionism.

High Protectionists

"There has been no disclaimer from Mr. Rowell, and it is therefore reasonable to suppose that the Unionists of the future will be essentially a high tariff and big interest party steeped in the traditions of Conservatism.

"After the next general election the prairies will no longer exercise a moderating influence within the party, for it is fairly certain that the prairies will then return to progressive Liberalism, with the United Farmers' candidates as alternatives, instead of sending Unionists to Ottawa to vote for high protection.

"There is no logical reason for the permanent alliance of men who hold widely divergent views concerning the vital issues of the future in the fact that two years ago they held an identical view regarding an issue that has been settled and that has now no more than historical interest."

Alberta Farmers

Calgary, July 15.—The executives of the newly-formed political organizations of the United Farmers of Alberta throughout the province will convene in Calgary next week for the purpose of unifying action and devising a common plane of action.

Mr. Dewart

Toronto, July 15.—Beyond a general statement in which he contradicted in toto the statements made in Hon. N. W. Rowell's open letter, H. H. Dewart, the Ontario Liberal leader declined last night to discuss the charges made against him by the President of the Privy Council. Mr. Dewart intimated that he might deal more fully with Mr. Rowell's letter in a speech at a Liberal convention at Formosa, South Bruce, this afternoon.

In an open letter yesterday Mr. Rowell said that Hartley H. Dewart, recently elected leader of the Liberal Party in the Ontario Legislature, had used his utmost efforts to defeat the Union Government and Canada's war policy, and not only had Mr. Dewart not sympathized with, but had been opposed to the policy of the Liberal Party.

On the prohibition issue, Mr. Rowell said:

"As leader in Ontario he (Mr. Dewart) undoubtedly will command and secure the support of the organized liquor traffic and its friends in Ontario, irrespective of party. They look upon him as the rising hope."

dent Poincare has written to Premier Clemenceau, asking him in the name of the country, "to convey to the French armies at this divine moment the passionate admiration and gratitude of the republic."

The Premier sent congratulations to Marshal Petain and the Allied commanders, through Marshal Foch, the Allied Commander-in-Chief. The Premier concluded his letter to Marshal Petain with the reminder that "from the victory of war there remains the victory of peace to be achieved."

In Memory of Dead

While youth and beauty danced last night, a far different scene was enacted near the Arc de Triomphe in the vast Place de l'Etoile. All the evening and until late at night a seemingly endless line of somberly-clad processions filed slowly and silently before the huge cenotaph—the empty casket in memory of the dead, placed in the shadow of the great arch. This sad procession was composed of families of the dead.

Mounted Republican Guards, sitting on their horses like statues, held torches. Through the night they kept their vigil. Each family that mourned for some one of its members was allowed to bring a single flower. As these came hour after hour the empty casket soon was buried.

Consolation

As the mourners went quietly and slowly by many were weeping. Some found consolation in the thought that the sacrifices made by those who died were not in vain. This was visualized by the absence from the Arc de Triomphe of the chains which had barred passage under the arch since Prussia's victory of 1870 and by the thought that France's honor had been avenged.

46 Provinces.

Paris, July 15.—(Havas)—Dispatches from the various cities and provinces of France on the observance was manifested as in the national capital. The military reviews brought forth demonstrations of patriotic fervor in Alsace-Lorraine at Metz and Strasbourg, where the celebrations took on an especially solemn character and evoked indescribable enthusiasm among the people.

Dispatches from various European capitals such as London, Madrid, Lisbon, Rome and Brussels, as well as from other foreign cities, describe demonstrations there in honor of the day and in friendship toward France.

In New York.

New York, July 15.—The Bastille Day celebrations here were not marred by radical demonstrations and in all parts of the city the fall of the historic French fortress was commemorated by French and United States societies.

More than 3,000 persons last night participated in a celebration of sixty-five organizations, comprising the United French Societies of the city.

Elaborate precautions were taken by the police during the day to prevent disorders by radicals, public buildings and homes of prominent citizens being kept under close guard.

AMERICANS RESUME TRADE WITH GERMANY

General Licenses Issued By War Trade Division of State Department

Washington, July 15.—General licenses covering import and export trading with Germany has been issued by the War Trade Division of the State Department with the approval of Acting Secretary Polk. Except in certain limited cases provided for under the treaty of peace, trading between the United States and Germany may be commenced at once.

The War Trade Division's action is in line with the order of the Council of Five at Paris lifting the economic blockade of Germany last Saturday. The formal notice by Acting Secretary Polk is accompanied by two sweeping orders, one abolishing the export conservation list and the other rescinding bunker restrictions which have prevented the coaling of vessels at American ports without licenses.

Ships Loaded.

Trading with Germany is expected to begin at once, three ships for Germany having been loaded in American ports and awaiting the issuance of the blanket license order. The Shipping Board has announced that it stood ready to establish steamship lines between American Atlantic and Gulf ports and Hamburg and Bremen as soon as cargoes were at the docks.

The restrictions left in force affect trading between the United States and Hungary and with those sections of Russia controlled by the Bolsheviki.

The importation of dyes, dyestuffs, potash, drugs and chemicals which have been manufactured in Germany even if they have been transported elsewhere before being shipped to the United States is still forbidden, except when individual import licenses are secured to cover the movements. The importation of wheat and wheat flour also is banned, to protect the Government price guarantee on wheat grown in the United States, and the general license does not cover importation of sugar or of tin in pigs or alloy.

Telephone Operators in Vancouver Resume Work After Strike

Vancouver, July 15.—The operators and linemen of the B. C. Telephone Company here who have been on strike since June 3 have decided to return to work. The linemen and construction men reported for duty this morning and the switchboard girls who have remained out will all be back to-morrow morning. The striking supervisors will go back as operators, taking their ordinary turn and depending upon individual efficiency to secure future promotion.

SS. CORSICAN LANDS TROOPS AT MONTREAL

Montreal, July 15. — Carrying 1,136 passengers, of whom the majority were discharged Imperial soldiers, including 155 officers and 431 other ranks, together with 292 women, 287 children, seventeen infants, twenty-one members of the nursing service and three nurses, the steamship Corsican, of the Canadian Pacific Ocean Services, from Liverpool, docked here last night at eleven o'clock. The voyage was started on July 4, and the weather was generally calm, though on nearing the Atlantic coast very foggy weather was experienced.

STREET CAR STRIKE CONTINUES IN OTTAWA

Ottawa, July 15.—The strike of the Ottawa Electric Railway employees is still on. This morning the strikers, by a vote of 500 to 16, refused to return to work unless the company would agree to reinstate all striking employees.

The company has stated that all the strike-breakers were guaranteed permanent employment and that 125 men taken on recently will be retained. This means that more than 100 strikers will be out of work if a settlement is reached.

TELEPHONE STRIKE CONTINUES IN BERLIN

Berlin, July 15.—Contrary to expectations the telephone strike here did not end this morning. In many of the plebiscites yesterday the employees failed to accept the employers' proposal of a bonus of 300 marks. Spartacans and Communists attended the meetings and turned the tide against the union leaders, who wanted the men to return to work. Another vote is being taken to-day.

The strike fever among the bank clerks is vanishing and it is probable that an arrangement will be effected whereby each bank may deal through the industrial council with its own employees.

CHURCHES IN STATES URGE INTERVENTION IN BOLSHEVIK RUSSIA

New York, July 15.—A movement to unite the Christian churches of the United States in support of intervention in Russia was launched here yesterday at a conference of bishops of the Episcopal, Russian Orthodox, Greek Orthodox and Roumanian churches, and it was announced that all bishops and clergy of the Episcopal Church in the United States would be asked to circulate petitions urging President Wilson to act to check Bolshevik outrages against Christians of Russia.

MURDERERS EXECUTED BY THE MEXICANS

Washington, July 15.—Murderers of a number of United States citizens in Mexico have been apprehended and executed by the Mexican Government, which through expenditures of two-thirds of the republic's revenue in the work of pacification is slowly restoring order, it was said to-day by Ygnacio Bonilla, Mexican Ambassador to the United States, who has just returned to Washington after a month's visit at Mexico City.

The Ambassador added that the bandits and rebels in all parts of the country were laying down their arms and returning to their homes to till the land.

The truck was driven by Billy Allen, formerly lightweight boxing champion of Canada, and no blame is attached to him.

A TORONTO JUDGMENT

Toronto, July 15. — Judge Morrison gave a decision in the divisional court here to-day that seems to have possible far-reaching effects. It was a judgment for the father of Miss Nora Stevenson, a student at Jarvis Street Collegiate Institute, for $55, representing the value of a coat which had been stolen from a cloakroom in the school.

"The defendants, having provided a cloakroom, were bound to take reasonable care of the coats and hats placed there," said the judge. "They are clearly negligible, and in my opinion are liable."

The Board of Education will appeal against the judgment.

ACTIVE TRADING CONTINUES IN NEW YORK

Irregularity Developed Near the Close When Money Rates Advanced

(By Burdick Bros. & Brett, Ltd.)

New York, July 15.—Overnight buying orders caused a higher opening in the steel stocks this morning. Crucible Steel has had a sensational advance, the rise was continued to-day with hardly a let up. Bethlehem Steel was a good second. The buying movement spread to some of the specialties, notably American Woollen and Central Leather. The best authorities are advising caution on the buying side at these levels for the industrials and are looking for the next advance to be in the rails.

MUST BUILD HOUSES IN THIS CITY, SAYS ALDERMAN DINSDALE

Housing Scheme Must Relieve Grave Congestion, Declares Well-known Contractor

"It is absolutely necessary that housing accommodation be secured at once. There are virtually no houses to be had for rent in the city, apartment buildings are filled and even the summer cottages at the beaches are occupied. It would be a reversal of the Council's progressive policy to fail to adopt the Soldiers' Housing Scheme in its entirety.

Such is the substance of a report submitted to the City Council last night by Alderman Robert Dinsdale, appointed by his colleagues to investigate housing conditions in the city, in connection with the Dominion Housing Scheme. The Council, however, postponed its decision on the Housing Scheme until its next meeting. Alderman Dinsdale report was hot read.

When it comes to consider the Housing Scheme next week the following extracts from Alderman Dinsdale's remarks will be a strong argument in favor of the acceptance of the city's housing allocation:

Must Secure Houses.

"It is absolutely necessary that housing accommodation secured at once. There are virtually no houses to be had for rent in the city, all apartment buildings are filled, even the summer cottages at the beach are occupied. These of course are not suitable for winter use, and the occupants will be returning to the city to their homes which, in the meantime, are in many cases rented for the summer months. Their return will cause further congestion in the fall. The city has public utilities for the support of a much greater population than there is at present. A great part of these utilities are not fully used owing to the number of vacant lots which are at the present time provided with connections for water and sewers. This represents a large investment which annually entails charges for interests on sinking fund and taxes.

"More than this, Victoria is providing adjacent municipalities with utilities at a nominal rate while it would be a much better paying proposition to provide the same to a population within the city limits. Considering that the Council has taken such an active part in bringing to a successful issue the drydock scheme, the favorable progress of the Johnson Street bridge and the improved prospects generally, it would be a reversal of this progressive policy for the Council to fail to adopt the Soldiers' Housing Scheme in its entirety."

VICTORIA TRUSTEES IN SEATTLE TO VISIT DENTAL CLINICS

Seattle, July 15.—Dr. Lewis Hall, former mayor of Victoria, for twelve years a member of the Victoria school board and now interested in proposed improvements in the school service, and A. M. Aitken, a trustee on the Victoria School Board, came to Seattle today to investigate the Seattle public school dental clinic. Victoria is planning to add a dental clinic, and Dr. Hall is interested in the question both as a dentist and as a former school trustee, while Mr. Aitken is investigating as a trustee.

The Seattle schools, the two men were told, provide for regular examinations of pupils. Those whose teeth need attention are notified and in the event their parents are unable to provide treatment, the schools give free service.

The Victoria officers were in conference to-day with Superintendent Frank Cooper, Dr. Ira C. Brown, chief medical officer, and Secretary R. W. Jones, of the Seattle School Board.

LIEUT. HARDING RETURNS

One of "Originals" Home After Long Absence in War Zone—Married in England.

Lieut. William Harding, who left here in August, 1914, as a private with the Gordon Highlanders, has returned to this city. He served with the 16th Canadian Scottish until April, 1916, when he was wounded and invalided to Blighty. On recovering he was given a commission in the engineers with which unit he returned to France and was again wounded. When furlough to Canada was granted all First Contingent men, Lieut. Harding returned to the Dominion.

While in England in 1917, Lieut. Harding married Miss Hilda Haile, of Gloucester. The veteran intends to reside in this city. Before going overseas he was employed with Gore & McGregor.

COURT OF REVISION SAT THIS MORNING; NO CHANGES IN ROLL

The City Court of Revision on the assessment on improvements for the year 1919 was held in the City Hall this morning. As there has been no intimation that the city will tax improvements this year, no changes in the roll as presented were requested. The holding of the Court was purely formal, and no objection was lodged. The land values assessment, under the Relief Act last year, is identical with that of 1918.

READJUSTMENT WILL ENTAIL LARGE SUM FROM RATEPAYERS

The ratepayers of Victoria will be called upon to find about $1,400,000 under the terms of the Relief Act of 1918 in the local improvement adjustments set by the Commissioners. These figures became available to-day when it was know how the Bayley case on Pandora Avenue had been determined in the Court of Appeal. The amount represents the agregate assesments removed from frontagers under improvement by-laws, to be transferred to the general taxpayers by direction of the Act. About $1,000,000 represents adjustments on the principal streets, Pandora, Douglas and similar large expropriation works, and the balance is spread over a large number of streets. It is understood that legislative action will be taken next session to deal with the financing of the obligation.

Will Have Representation.—The Victoria and District Recreation Commission will assist members of the City Council in disbursing the funds contributed by these two bodies toward playground supervision.

Beautifying London

From The Christian Science Monitor.

Lord Rosebery recently gave utterance to some facetious gibes aimed at what might well be called the war memorial habit which, in most allied countries, has followed the armistice. With the example of the popular desire to turn Holyrood into a "Cockney Vatican" fresh in memory, he said that people, inveighed into war memorial schemes, usually had occasion to gnash their teeth at the result. It would be interesting to know what caustic comment, if any, he would make upon the ambitious plan now afoot, in the British capital, to commemorate the great victory by laying out several magnificent thoroughfares in Westminster and adorning them with symbolical monuments and palatial buildings.

How suitably to embellish and improve so incorrigible a city as London is an oft-recurring and apparently thankless task which has yet to find its Georges Eugene Haussmann. Who, indeed, since Wren has had the courage or, rather, the temerity, to attempt the transmutation of the English capital as did the great architect of Napoleon his Paris, when he changed the topography of that city, modernized its houses, rearranged its thoroughfares, adorned its avenues, and placed under contribution all that was best architecturally in the present and the past? London, moreover, seems to possess a static quality which is intolerant of change. It is all very well for Major Pawley and his distinguished backers to talk glowingly of laying out a new London University covering fifteen acres, of erecting a Shakespeare theatre and other imperial monuments, of devising a new Lambeth Bridge, and an Empire Embankment and Avenue ornamented with symbolical statuary of the Great War and its succeeding peace. The Westminster scheme covers but a fraction of London's real problem, the conversion of what is largely a stately Georgian and an ugly Victorian legacy into an attractive city with some semblance to uniformity of plan.

To talk of beautifying London sounds like the iteration of an empty phrase. Yet London has a real heritage of potential if not actual beauty. Taken in detail, the city in spots, often surprises one with its magnificence, as witness the architectural complex of South Kensington, or that sublime mass which has Westminster Abbey for its central feature, or the view from St. James' Park, looking in the direction of Whitehall, where one might well picture Wordsworth standing, instead of on Westminster Bridge, as he penned the line.

"Earth has not anything to show more fair."

One wonders, with a few fine London vignettes before him, what Dickens was thinking of when he satirized the Cockney's neglect of civic adornment by describing the public buildings as nothing but tanks for containing fogs. Whistler caught sight of unsuspected beauties in London mists and architecture for his canvases and perpetuated them in symphonic harmonies of color. London, indeed, has a way of hiding much of her attractiveness from the unsympathetic eye. The reason, to a large degree, is temperamental. The city west of the Strand affords constant evidence that the hearts of the English people are really in the country. What, otherwise, is the significance of the trim London squares, parks in miniature, the pastoral loveliness of Richmond, or of expansive, unspoilt heaths like Wimbledon?

But in the aggregate result one must admit that London is structureless, incoherent, without idea or plan. Her architectural groupings are lost in a welter of formless brick and mortar. There is no common center, no point upon which London can focus itself, and from which it can receive its civic inspiration. Charm is scattered far afield and civic life disseminated haphazard over the straggling villages and small towns that have been gradually swallowed up by the insatiable city. Only here and there, as in Pall Mall and along the Mall, is the "grand manner" suggested; otherwise the palatial building and the historic monument often stand cheek by jowl with mean houses, gloomy tenements, and squalid thoroughfares.

If ever the familiar town planning schemes of the London Society, supported by Lord Curzon and Sir Aston Webb, are carried to their full fruition, London may yet see, however, an augmentation of those plans which, centuries ago, Wren formulated on paper, but which were abandoned because of empty exchequers. Sir Christopher proposed three centres of predominant interest, from each of which ten broad streets were to radiate. The London Society, above all, would fain redeem the Surrey shores from their characteristic unsightliness by the construction of the projected King George Embankment. With the shores from Southwark to Lambeth turned magically into vistas of surpassing picturesqueness, with ornamental bridges spanning the stream at Charing Cross and Lambeth, with Westminster Haussmannized and glorified through thoroughfares unmatched in the rest of the Empire, a real start will have been made in the process of converting London into an imperial city of noble externalities.

Meanwhile there is the supreme lesson to be drawn from the Westminster movement to commemorate Britain's part in the Great War, that, sooner or later, housing and town planning must become the subject of careful attention on the part of the trained expert. Why should a single house be erected, a street laid out, or even an uncouth legacy from the past be tolerated, without being first co-ordinated with the improvement schemes of citizens imbued with fine patriotism and with powers to enforce their aesthetic demands?

Would Prevent Convention Here.—The B. C. Hospital Association informed the City Council by letter tonight that the action of the city in making persons who exhibited hospital supplies at the recent hospital convention here pay trades licenses would prevent the Association meeting in Victoria again.

Twelve Questions for Employers--Ethical Conceptions

New Testament Coming Into Favor

By J. W. Macmillan in The Montreal Journal of Commerce.

At the last annual convention of the International Association of Garment Manufacturers, held in Chicago in the months of May, an open discussion one afternoon was led by Mr. A. K. Baer, of the Strouse-Baer Co. Mr. Baer had prepared his audience for his address by distributing among them leaflets containing a number of questions:

1. Have you realized that your employees spend form fifty to sixty per cent. of their working hours in your establishment, and that you are the greatest factor in their development as good citizens?

2. Does your help receive commensurate returns for their contribution of labor?

3. Do they have a voice in the regulation of their hours and conditions of labor?

4. Do you in any way safeguard the efficiency of your employees by a systematic medical, optical and dental examination?

5. Do you maintain proper lunch room facilities to assure proper care of employees' digestive functions?

6. Do you maintain a school of instruction to teach your employees how to become efficient operatives?

7. Do you use any method of developing the mental and moral quality of your employees by community singing, entertainment, lecture courses or reading?

8. Do you penalize your employees for inefficient work or soldiering on the job?

9. Do you charge for machine parts?

10. Do you carry any insurance on your employees to take care of them for loss of time through illness?

11. Do you carry any life insurance on your employees, on a basis of service, as a method of prolonging your employees service?

12. Are your foremen and fore women trained in how to handle men and women as human beings?

Policy Which Makes For Business Success.

Such questions are in harmony with the progressive ideas which many employers are showing, and which many garment workers, notably the great firm of Hart, Schaffner and Marx are putting into practice. They do not represent the vagaries of an exceptional employer, but the prevailing attitude of a large number of the most prosperous business firms of the day.

The first thing to be noticed in them is that they represent a policy which makes for business success. They are not a side line of compassion, something which the kind heart of the employer prompts him to do at the cost of his business income. They are an essential part of his scheme for building up a substantial and profitable enterprise. Such an employer is thinking of the capacity of his workers to produce. Hence he safeguards their eyesight, their dentition, their general health. He provides for their recreation, comfort and improvement of their minds, being of the opinion that the service they will return will repay him for his outlay. For the same reason he carries sickness and life insurance for them, to hold them to steady employment in his factory. He is ready even to penalize them for slackness and indolence during working hours.

The question of labor costs is one of the highest importance in industry. Many employers have not yet gotten beyond the stage of setting the worker to his task and hoping for results. They scarcely know the proportion of the cost of production which goes into wages. They deplore the frequency with which their workers leave, and wonder at their restlessness. But they make no intelligent study of the causes of the labor turnover. If they give an explanation of it they say that workers are not like what they used to be. These employers are not unkind to their help. Sometimes the fear of losing them makes them extremely solicitous and attentive. But the employee is unimpressed, and the employer wonders at the lack of gratitude among the working classes.

Efficiency Depends on Contentment.

So long as our industrial order stands, and wages are paid and profits are necessary to survival, the output of the worker is a chief consideration in industry. That output depends on the efficiency of the worker. And the efficiency of the worker depends on his health, intelligence, and satisfaction with his employment. It is wise to frankly tackle these problems.

But there is much more to be read in these questions than a provident business policy. They signify a recognition of something in the employee more than efficiency in his work. In the words of the last question, they raise the question of "how to handle men and women as human beings." The old economics and the latest delirious dream of radical Marxianism are agreed that labor is a commodity. The Peace Conference denies this. And anyone who deals with realities rather than with abstractions will agree that the Peace Conference is right. No one can look at a man standing beside the machine he operates and say that the man and the machine are the same sort of thing. No man can look upon the worker and the goods he makes and say that they are to be classed in one and the same category. 'Hath not a worker eyes? Hath not a worker hands, organs, dimensions, senses, affections, passions?"

It would seem that the ethical conceptions of the New Testament are coming into favor nowadays. Bernard Shaw has approved them. The New Republic recommends repentance on a national scale as the first step towards pacifying the industrial unrest of the day. It seems to me that such a list of questions as these is on the lines of the gospel teaching. For the keynote of that teaching is that all human groupings are to be on the family model. In the family the members do not exploit one another. They serve one another. There is room for much emulation and wholesome rivalry in a family. There is no lack of authority in a family, for the lack of which some democratic dreams can never come true. There is mutual service in a family, and so arranged that the highest authority and the chief sacrifice go together. Nothing less than this will Christianize business. It may be that nothing less than this will save business. Mr. Baer's questions do indeed fall far short of the utter realization of this ethical teaching, but they strike that note. They do read a little like what a father might want to know about his industrial household.

A wise man imagines that he is engaged in a game of flirtation until he wakes up and finds himself married

EMPRESS OF JAPAN IN FROM ORIENT

C.P.O.S. Liner Crossed From Yokohama in Eleven Days; Fog in Straits

AMERICAN LADY CORRESPONDENT ABOARD

Running into heavy banks of fog in the Straits of Juan de Fuca the Canadian Pacific Ocean Services liner Empress of Japan, Capt. W. Dixon-Hopcraft, R. N. R., was delayed in making port from the Far East.

Fog in Straits.

The Empress entered the Straits early this morning but owing to the fog the steamship did not come alongside her berth at the Outer Docks until after the noon hour.

Capt. Dixon-Hopcraft reported an excellent voyage from Yokohama, the vessel having cleared from the Japanese port on the afternoon of July 4, thus crossing the ocean in eleven days. The liner brought in 182 saloon passengers and 150 Chinese in the steerage accommodation. Twenty-four first class passengers and forty-nine Chinese came ashore at this port.

Lady War Correspondent.

After spending nine months in Siberia as a newspaper correspondent with the United States forces, Miss Peggy Hull, looking smart in the uniform of an American officer and wearing several decorations, was a passenger on board the Empress from the Far Eastern war theatre. In conversation with The Times representative on the promenade deck of the liner Miss Hull spoke of some exciting experiences during the period of her sojourn in Siberia.

She penetrated into the interior of the country as far as Blagovtveshchensk, Amur Province, and latterly made her headquarters at Vladivostok.

"Unless immediate support is given the Kolchak Government by the Allies" said Miss Hull, "I fear Russia is lost."

"The Bolsheviks are getting stronger and the forces operating against them are wholly inadequate." Desertion to the side of Bolshevism is frequent, she said, even in the territory patrolled by the Allied troops.

Miss Hull cited cases in support of her contention where considerable bodies of Kolchak troops had gone over to the Bolsheviks.

These peoples deserted from the ranks, and disguised themselves as peasants, which made it practically impossible for the authorities to ferret them out from their hiding places. Wholesale defections of this nature happened right in Vladinostok.

Mixed With Canadians.

Miss Hull saw a great deal of the Canadian troops in Siberia and speaks highly of the excellent discipline of the men wearing the uniform of this country.

"I saw a great deal of the Canadian officers" went on Miss Hull, "and everybody was very nice to me."

Miss Hull recalled an incident which happened at the Canadian barracks at Vladivostok which instanced the treachery of Bolshevik partizans professing to be on the side of the Allies

One of the Canadian officers stumbled over a board in one of the barrack rooms, and when the boards were taken up to effect repairs, a large quantity of guns and ammunition was discovered stowed away below the flooring of the building.

Miss Hull went to Siberia via San Francisco last October as representative of the Newspaper Enterprise Association and was attached to the American contingent. She is now returning to her home in Cleveland.

From Mesopotamia.

Four British military officers, Major A. E. Scoby, Capt. F. L. Thomas, Capt. F. E. Womersley and Lieut. D. M. J. Walker, were passengers on the Empress of Japan, homebound from Mesopotamia.

These officers saw much active service with the expeditionary force under General Maude. All are bound to London, Eng.

Other military officers who have been attached to the Siberian forces returned by the liner.

After disembarking her local passengers the Empress left direct at 1 o'clock for Vancouver. She brought in 5,000 tons of Oriental cargo including a valuable shipment of raw silk.

Only passengers, mail and baggage were put ashore here.

CORNERS IN COPPERS.

Why are coppers so scarce in many parts of the country? Is somebody hoarding them by the ton or are they being cornered for business purposes? Both Operations are possible.

In Lancashire a man who made a business of supplying copper coins to retail business houses—he "ran," in fact, a Copper Change—several times succeeded in cornering practically all the pennies and halfpennies in a certain district. Ordinarily he took coppers from gas companies, circuses, etc., and supplied them to shopkeepers, charging each a side commission for the accommodation, this constituting his profit. But on several occasions he acquired complete control of all the small change "on spot," and thus added materially to his legitimate gains.

For a different reason the authorities of a small watering place in Wales once cornered all the coppers in the town. Their object was to force the hand of visitors who stingily (as they thought) gave only one penny to the collection for the local band, and in it they were successful, for, as change became scarcer the receipts of that institution increased. But their triumph was attended by many awkward consequences, one of which was a plague of three-penny-bits.

By a similar expedient a gas company in the Midlands was forced to come to terms with some of its employees who had "downed tools." The strikers proceeded to corner pennies, with the result that, notwithstanding that bronze was largely imported into the town, there was not enough in circulation to keep the slot-meters going. These instruments had consequently to be emptied more frequently than usual, this involving the employment of much extra labor. So when the struggle had lasted for some time the company considered it prudent to give in.—Tit-Bits.

CUNARD LINE FREED OF LUSITANIA SUITS

Final Decree of U. S. Court Dismiss All Damage Actions Brought Against Company

New York, July 15.—A final decree dismissing all damage suits against the Cunard Steamship Company as the result of the torpedoing of the Lusitania, and barring any similar actions which might be brought in future, was signed yesterday in the U. S. District Court by Judge Mayer. Actions aggregating between $5,000,000 and $6,000,000 had been brought against the company.

In his decree Judge Mayer intimated that the claimants might be reimbursed for their pecuniary losses through indemnity collected by the United States from the German Government. The decree, which was based upon the original opinion written by him August 26, 1918, read in part:

"The sinking of the steamer Lusitania on May 7, 1915, and the consequent loss of life and property were caused solely by the illegal act of the Imperial German Government, through its instrument, the submarine commander, and the defendant is not liable to any extent for any loss and damage or injury, nor for any claim which in any way arises out of or in consequence of the unlawful attack by a German submarine or submarines on the said steamer."

The damage suits are dismissed without costs, and the officers of the liner are absolved of any fault or neglect in the loss of the ship.

BOOKS ARE SEIZED.

New York, July 15.—Stock of the International Marine Salvage Corporation, valued at $5,000,000, and all of the corporation's books, were seized by detectives who visited the offices today under the direction of Assistant District Attorney Kilroe, following receipts by him of complaints concerning the firm. The corporation was incorporated for the purpose of exploiting a new method of raising sunken ships by means of inflated containers placed within them. Its officials include several widely known shipping men.

VANCOUVER MEMBERS NOT YET SATISFIED

Take Success of Victoria in Securing Drydock Very Ungraciously

Vancouver, July 15. — Thanks were extended to three local federal members, H. H. Stevens, S. J. Crowe and R. C. Cooper, by the council of the Board of Trade yesterday for their active efforts at Ottawa to secure adequate port developments for Vancouver and the drydock. Major Cooper suggested it was not yet time to "chuck up their hands" over the drydock situation, and the two others explained that, while the Government seemed to consider itself bound by the promise made to Victoria some years ago when the Hon. Bob Rogers was Minister of Public Works and the Hon. Martin Burrell made the announcement that Victoria was to get the Government drydock.

In regard to the $5,000,000 to be expended on harbor improvements, Mr. Crowe expressed the hope that neither politics nor anything else would interfere with the proper decision as to where the improvements should go.

Mr. Crowe suggested the Government would be glad, if it could, to forget its promise to Victoria with regard to the drydock, with which promise was associated the establishment of the Yarrow yards with the understanding they were to bring out their great plant from the Old Country to that place.

"I am quite confident we are going to get a drydock here at Vancouver, and I expect it will be before very long," said Mr. Stevens. "I think the conditions are such that it will have to be built if there are forty drydocks at Victoria."

SCHOONER CASKA LEAVES ON SEARCH FOR GOLD

Nome, Alaska, July 15.—With a party of twenty-five aboard, the schooner Caska, bearing the Northern Mining and Trading Company's expedition to the Arctic Coast of Northeast Siberia, where the party will search for gold, arrived Sunday night. The voyage will be continued to the Lena River region and the Caska is expected to leave at once for Anadyr.

The trip from San Francisco occupied 42 days. Present prospects for the extensive explorations in Arctic Siberia planned are not the best, as Behring Straits are heavily blocked with ice and heavy ice still lingers in Behring Sea as far south as St. Lawrence Island. No ice has visited Nome, however.

CAPT. MURCHIE, OF KINROSS-SHIRE, DEAD

Word has been received here of the death of Capt. Murchie, master of the sailing ship Kinrosshire, a vessel well-known in Victoria harbor.

Capt. Murchie succumbed to sunstroke at Calcutta following a voyage from the Cape of Good Hope to the Indian port.

The time used is Pacific Standard for the 120th meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, above the average level of lower low water.

Esquimalt.—To find the depth of water on the sill of the dry dock at any tide, add 19.0 feet to the height of high water as above given.

STRIKE EXTENDS.

Melbourne, July 15.—Virtually all shipping in the harbors of Melbourne and Sydney has been tied up in consequence of the seamen's strike which began several months ago in Queensland, and has extended to Victoria and New South Wales. The resultant shortage of coal will be most disastrous feature of the strike, and the cessation of inter-state trade is already being felt in Queensland, the supply of wheat and flour having been cut off. The New South Wales Government has ordered a secret ballot to test the feeling of seamen regarding a continuation of the strike. The union is said to be entirely in favor of settling the dispute by arbitration.

NORMAL AT RUPERT.

Prince Rupert, B. C., July 15.—The deepsea fishing industry which had to some extent been effected by the sympathetic strike, the packers having been out for more than a fortnight, is again normal. During the strike scores of boats were diverted to Ketchikan, Vancouver and Seattle, but these have now returned to do business here. During the last week about 200,000 pounds of halibut have been landed here. George B. Hull, Federal engineer, has been notified that an appropriation has been made by the Government for a survey of the foreshore at Seal Cove, where it is planned to build docks and warehouses for the exclusive use of the fishermen.

WASHING DAYS TO GO.

The suggestion of no more washing days has been made by the Women's Housing Sub-Committee of the Ministry of Reconstruction, which was recently charged to inquire into problems affecting the housewife and went particularly into the washing day problem.

Communal wash-houses, where each woman takes her turn, were found to be unpopular. A common wash-house for a block of tenements is restricted in its usefulness.

What the committee suggest is an extension of the "wash-bag" principle. The scheme would entail the establishment either by municipalities or by co-operative effort, of power laundries, worked preferably by electricity, with the most modern plant.

The washing of each family would be put in a bag, collected, washed by electric power, mangled or wrung out in a machine, rough-dried and sent back, the ironing and finishing of the articles being done at home. Each bagful would be washed separately to prevent the need for marking the articles.

The committee estimate that a family bag of 150 mixed articles, small and large, could be washed for about 7d.—Tit-Bits.

Serious Loss of Life at Valparison; Fourteen Vessels Sunk

Valparaiso, Chile, July 15.—Eighty-seven persons are known to have been drowned, and the loss of life may have been much greater in a hurricane which swept this port Saturday and Sunday.

Fourteen vessels of various sizes were sunk and about 100 lighters and other small craft were destroyed. The property loss is estimated at 200,000,000.

Among the steamers lost were the Don Carlos, 1,141 net tons; Toro, 76 tons; tug Cordiderale, 107 tons; the old hulks Lima, of 2,390 tons; the Lontue and the Likata.

The German steamship Sais was washed ashore and pounded to pieces, losing ten of her crew.

DRASTIC ACTION IS PROMISED TO SETTLE WATERFRONT STRIKE

New York, July 15.—Drastic action will be taken by the United States Shipping Board within a few hours, either here or in Washington, to settle the marine strike, Captain Frank S. Ferris, managing agent of the board here, declared to-day. While he did not intimate what this action would be, it is known that the board is considering manning ships with crews supplied by the navy.

WANT RECOGNITION.

New York, July 15.—The demands of the striking marine workers of this and other Atlantic ports for union recognition to-day continued to be the principal stumbling block in the way of settlement of the walkout which late yesterday affected vessels operated by the U. S. Shipping Board. The spread of the strike to the Government-controlled boats resulted from a refusal of shipping board officials to grant the seamen's demands for three shift of eight hours each af sea and preference to union members.

A minister, accompanied by two pretty girls, stood entranced by the beauties of a flowing stream. A fisherman happening to pass, and mistaking the minister's occupation, said:

"I am a fisher of men," answered the preacher, with dignity.

"Well," replied the fisherman, with an admiring glance at the girls, "you've got the right bait."

COUNCIL ENDORSES BRIDGE AGREEMENT

Final Approval in Near Future; Objections to C. P. R. Proposals

Another step toward the construction of a new Johnson Street Bridge was taken by the City Council last night when the draft agreement between the city and the E. & N. Railway Company concerning the construction of the viaduct as drawn up by the latter, was considered in detail and, with the exception of a few minor details declared satisfactory. The agreement will probably receive final approval early next week. In the meantime City Engineer F. M. Preston will investigate several matters regarding the building of the roadway to the bridge, and similar works.

Having made a thorough examination of the agreement, City Solicitor R. W. Hannington informed the Council that the contract appeared "reasonably proper from a legal standpoint." There was no use, Mr. Hannington observed, in asking the Provincial Government to consider the draft until the agreement had been approved finally by the City and the Railway Company.

"This was the course which was followed in 1915, when the agreement between the city and the Provincial Government was actually executed by all parties, and the agreement between the city and the railway company was signed by the Mayor and clerk, but was never actually completed," Mr. Hannington said.

The Council's only serious objection to the proposed contract as presented was in respect to the provision that the city should meet the cost of removing the present bridge and turn it over to the railway. It is expected, however, that all difficulties will be smoothed out without trouble very shortly.

The Agreement.

The summary of the bridge agreement is as follows:

Clause 1 recites that the agreement shall be binding on the successors in office of both parties.

Clause 2 stipulates that the parties shall join in the necessary application of the Board of Railway Commissioners for approval of the terms and provisions of the agreement.

Clause 3 provides that the city shall construct the bridge with accommodation for pedestrians, vehicular traffic and with a clear space of twenty feet for a single line of railway tracks on the northern side of the structure for the exclusive use of the railway company as per plan marked "A."

Clause 4 provides that the bridge shall be built of steel in accordance with plan "A," and in case of dispute as to the latter shall be heard and determined by the Railway Board.

Clause 5—The city shall at is own expense construct the road shown on the above plan as the main road to Victoria West from the westerly end of the bridge and also the road shown as a public road to the yards of the railway company. The latter shall first approve of the substructure required in constructing the first named road under the tracks of the company, the Board of Railway Commissioners to settle any disputes.

Clause 6—The city shall complete the bridge ready for laying the railway tracks, which latter work shall be carried out by the railway company.

Clause 7—The railway company shall not be interfered with in its use of the present bridge during the progress of construction.

Clause 8—The city shall keep the new bridge in a safe condition at all times except as to the tracks of the company. The latter shall bear the expense of repairs of portions of the bridge set apart for single line of rails east and west of the bascule and one-third of the cost of maintaining and repairing the said bascule span.

Clause 9—The cost of operating the bascule shall be as to one-third borne by the company and two thirds by the city.

Clause 10—The railway company shall have exclusive running rights for all its traffic over the bridge and its approaches.

Clause 11 permits the use of the bridge by street railway cars.

Clause 12—To enable the railway company to make the changes necessary in its existing tracks to accord with the layout shown on plan A and provide the railway company space to handle baggage, express and freight to and from its trains in its yards east of the bridge so to be constructed by the city, the city shall acquire, grade up to the present level of the said railway yards and convey to the railway company the area of land shown edged in yellow on said plan.

Clause 13—The bascule span shall not be opened within twenty minutes before the departure or within the arrival of a scheduled train of the railway company from or to Victoria station.

Clause 14—No local improvement taxes shall be imposed upon the railway company in connection with any of the works or roads to be constructed, maintained and repaired hereunder by the city.

Clause 15—The city shall bear the cost of removing the existing bridge and piers of the railway company, the said bridge to remain the property of the railway company.

Clause 16—In consideration of the construction of the said bridge and of the rights and interests herein granted the railway company agrees to pay the city upon completion of the said bridge and roads the sum of one hundred thousand dollars.

Clause 17—The obligation of the city shall not become effective until the construction is ratified by the electors of the city. The city undertakes to submit the said by-law within three months after the execution of these presents.

Clause 18—It is, however, mutually agreed that if the said by-law does not receive the sanction of the electors the railway company shall be at liberty to proceed to renew its existing bridge upon its present location, freed and discharged from all claims of the city heretofore asserted of rights to the use of the same, all of which rights shall be deemed to have been and are hereby released.

He was a most polite and obliging bus conductor. But there was a suspicion of his politeness being exhausted when for the sixth time he assured the dear old lady in the corner of his bus that he really did go up the Fulham Road.

"Thank you, so much," she said, "nd would you mind stopping at No. 979?"

"All right, mum," he replied, "and shall I give one knock or two knocks at the door?"

HEAR OF TROUBLE AT THE CITY HALL

Employees' Association Alleges Discrimination and Gross Injustice to Workers

The first official intimation of the dissatisfaction which has been disturbing the civic service of late came before the City Council last night in the form of a letter from the Civic Employees Protective Association, protesting against the dismissal of two men from the Waterworks Department. These men, the Association alleged, were being discriminated against in favor of young lady clerks who, as a matter of fact, were placed on the staff in the first place as substitutes for enlisted men. Now that the soldiers were returning it was the old employees who were to suffer, the letter said. After the aldermen had been informed by Mayor Porter that two of the young ladies mentioned were dependent for their living upon their labor, and that the third, his daughter, intended to resign, the whole question was tabled for a week.

"Grave Injustice."

Regarding recent dismissals in the Waterworks Department, the letter from the Civic Employees' Protective Association declared that a "grave injustice" was being perpetrated in the case of two employees, "insomuch as the positions they occupy were never held by men who enlisted, both men having been as long or longer in the city's service than either of the returned men who, we believe, it is the intention of the Water Commissioner to place in their positions."

"We fully concur with the contention of the Council that these returned men should be found employment," wrote the Association, "as we believe the Council's pledges given in 1914 and 1915 in this regard should be carried out, but not at the expense of men who are in no way being employed as substitutes."

In respect to the positions of one employee who is slated for dismissal the Association contended that his position was created by the Council in 1915 for economical reasons. Since that time he had saved the city the cost of his salary twice over.

Discrimination.

"We further point out," said the letter, "that in the past the Council has gone on record times without number as being the champion of the interests of the ratepayers, yet here are two taxpayers of long standing who, it seems, are to be discriminated against in favor of young lady clerks who have been on the staff but a comparatively short time and who, undoubtedly, were placed there as substitutes in lieu of enlisted men and who, we believe, while efficient and estimable in every way, have no family responsibilities resting upon them as have the men who have received their notices of dismissal.

Creating Unrest.

"We would further state that while we do not question the authority of the Water Commissioner to control the staff of the Department, we do, most emphatically, protest against this most regrettable action which, aside from its gross injustice, has a strong tendency to create unrest among the employees if age, priority, and efficiency are not to be taken into consideration in making adjustments in the staff.

"There seems that no charge has been laid at the door of these employees, we would respectfully ask your honorable body to use your best endeavors to see that justice and a square deal is accorded to these men."

"Two of the young ladies referred to," said the Mayor, "are dependent upon their labor. The other one—my daughter—has sent in her resignation. Those other two girls have a right to live."

Alderman Johns moved that the matter be referred to the Conciliation Committee for report.

Alderman Sangster raised prompt objections to this plan. "This is a matter for the Water Commissioner," he declared.

Berates Finance Committee.

When it was learned that the Water Commissioner had sought the advice of the Finance Committee of the Council before making his decisions, Alderman Fullerton claimed that matters of this kind should come before the Council. "The Finance Committee," asserted the Alderman, "is doing things it has no right to. If all its doings were uncovered, there would be some funny things for the public to hear about. What right has an official to go before the Finance Committee in secret and behind closed doors? I protest against this practice and I am not bluffing either."

Alderman Cameron reminded the Council that the Water Commissioner had very disagreeable duties to carry out. When he had asked the advice of the Finance Committee, however, its members had told him that he must perform these duties.

"If the Water Commissioner sees fit to dismiss any employee it's none of our business," added Alderman Sangster.

"We can't expect results if we tamper with the work of the officials," observed the Mayor.

"Well, I don't think any reasonable returned soldier would want the job of one of these old employee's anyway," replied Alderman Johns.

A resolution to refer the question to the Conciliation Committee resulted in a split vote, and the aldermen resolved to delay action for a week.
